AUSTRIAN LOSES CASH

Robbed of $500 in West Michigan Street Saloon.

Was Bound for Old Home in His Native Land.

Fred V. Alulnichich, an Austrian, was robbed last night of more than $500. Part of the money he intended to use in buying transportation to carry him to the old country next week, where his wife and five children are eagerly awaiting his homecoming. The remainder he intended using to such good purpose that he would be able to remain on the other side of the Atlantic with his family during the remainder of his days.

Alulnichich claims the money was taken from him in the saloon of Joseph Schaubert, 415 West Michigan street. The police last night arrested Frank Mark, charging him with the crime. It is claimed there are witnesses who saw him take the money.

In view of the disposition the Austrian intended to make of his money, the case is an unusually pathetic one. He came to this country a little more than two years ago, intending to work hard save his money and return home with his stake. While he did not get rich as quickly as he hoped, he carried out his intention of working hard whenever work was to be found, and succeeded in saving a little more than $500. He has worked at different jobs, but principally in the mines and woods of Northern Minnesota.

The outlook for profitable employment this winter did not look very bright to the man, and he decided to take the money he had and return to his native land, in response to letters from home. He thought this would be better than bringing his wife and children to the United States, for $500 will go much farther in Austria than it will in this country. Accordingly he came down from the range Sunday and planned to spend a few days in Duluth visiting friends. He looked up steamship sailings, and found that by leaving here next Monday he could make connections at New York with the boat which he wanted to board for his trip across the Atlantic. He was having a pleasant time with some of his friends last evening when the money was stolen.

Marks was arraigned in police court this morning on the charge of being drunk, and was sentenced to ten days in the county jail. This will give the police time to round up necessary witnesses, and the man will later be tried on a larceny charge.

COUNTER CLAIM
TRANSFERS SUIT

A suit begun by Henry E. Stansbury against August Pesola, in the municipal court of Duluth, to recover $450, has been transferred to the district court, on a counter claim of $1,025 put in by the defendant. The papers in the case were filed with the clerk of the district court this morning.

Stansbury claims that he purchased an interest in a logging contract, and entered upon it, but after a time Pesola appeared and claimed a prior right. Stansbury claims Pesola agreed to pay him for the timber already cut, for services and for the services of a foreman, who was paid by Stansbury. He claims that of the $450 due, only $15 was paid; that in timber. He asked judgment for $450.

In his answer, Pesola claims that Stansbury removed from the land a quantity of timber, which he had no right to take away, and he claims $1,025 in damages under the statute. As the counter claim was $1,025, the case was transferred, as the municipal court has no jurisdiction over suits involving more than $500. Harry W. Lanners is attorney for Stansbury, and O. J. Larson and M. E. Louissell appear for Pesola.

ORDER AFFIRMED.

The mandate of the supreme court of Minnesota affirming the order of Judge Dibel vacating the attachment on the property of Hippolyte Buysk, alias Charles Buysk, by the town of Buysk, was filed with the clerk of the district court this morning.

The order was made by Judge Dibel April 2 of this year, and the writ of attachment, which it vacated, was issued by Judge Ensign March 16 of this year. The plaintiff appealed. The case is one of considerable interest, for the town of Buysk suing Buysk for $25,000 for alleged misappropriation of $25,000 funds secured from the sale of bonds and $10,000 resultant damages to the town. Charges are made that Buysk organized the town that he might issue bonds and appropriate the money to his own use.

CLAIMS HE WAS DUPED

August Gradin Says Ignorance Was Played Upon by McKinnon.

Sues to Recover on Alleged Fraudulent Sale of Timber.

Claiming that William McKinnon played on his ignorance of the English language and lack of familiarity with American laws to fraudulently sell him timber, which McKinnon never owned, August Gradin seeks to recover $1,337.94 in district court. The complaint in the case was filed only this morning, although the issue was on the September calendar.

Gradin alleges that on Dec. 13, 1907, McKinnon offered to sell him the timber, spruce and cedar timber on the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter, section 32, township 36 north, range 18 west. He alleges that McKinnon represented that he owned the timber and was at liberty to dispose of it. Gradin visited the land with him, saw the timber, and closed the deal. Gradin says he had been in this country but a short time, could not read, write or speak English, and McKinnon played upon his ignorance in making the deal.

Gradin says he entered upon the land and began to cut the timber. On March 10, 1908, after having cut and removed ninety-eight cords of pulpwood and about 1,000 ties, William Byrne, the true owner of the land, started suit to recover for trespass. A jury in district court awarding him $381.94.

Gradin claims that in addition to the judgment against him, he was damaged $500 by the work he did in cutting the timber and $450 in profits he would have received from the sale. He asks $1,337.94 in the aggregate.

YOUNG HERO
A DULUTH BOY

August Hansen Formerly Sold Heralds on the Streets of City.

For rescuing two girls from drowning last November near Owatonna, August Hansen, formerly a Duluth boy, has recently been awarded a bronze medal and $2,000 by the Carnegie Hero Medal commission, for his bravery.

Hansen several years ago was a homeless little wail in the streets of Duluth. He slept on the streets and sold The Duluth Evening Herald for a living. Finally he came to the aid of the humane society, and was sent by Harry Whitmore, then humane officer, to the school at Owatonna. He said to have done very well at the school, being considered one of the best scholars of his class. He was adopted by an Owatonna family.

Last November, while a party of young people were enjoying the first skating of the season on the ice way, throwing two girls, Hazel Shaw and Bertie Jordan, into the water. Hansen saw them go through the ice, and by plunging into the water managed to save both of the girls. Prof. P. J. Kuntz of Owatonna, wrote to the Carnegie commission, after investigating the case, has bestowed upon August Hansen a badge of heroism and $2,000 in money. It has been the young man's ambition to continue his education in college, and the money has made this possible for him.

BROKERS HAVE
COUNTER CLAIM

In an answer filed with the clerk of the district court this morning, in the case of Inert Jensen vs. Holman Bros. & Co., the brokers, submit a counter claim for $390, which they claim is due on a promissory note given them by Jensen, April 9, 1907. Incidentally, they also claim to be turned over 500 shares of Comanche they hold as security on the note, to Jensen.

Jensen's complaint has not yet been filed in the clerk's office, so his side of the case is not available. The transaction dates back to Jan. 15, 1907, when the brokers say they submitted a statement to Jensen showing that there was a balance of $390 against him on their books, and to offset that, they held 500 shares of Comanche, which they owed him.

They say that Jensen told them to hold the Comanche as security and on April 9, 1907, he gave a promissory note for $390, and in leaving the Comanche with him. Since April 9, 1907, they claim they have often requested payment on the promissory note, offering the Comanche, but Jensen has failed to pay. They ask judgment for $390.

WANTS COIN FOR CRUSHED HAND

Because his hand was severely crushed between two plates in a leather cutting machine, Matt Dramer seeks to recover $2,000 from the Northern Shoe company. Papers in the case were filed with the clerk of the district court this morning.

Dramer alleges that on Feb. 25, 1908, he was working at the leather cutting machine, which was driven by electricity. It was necessary for him to put his hand between two plates, one of which descended when he pressed a lever with his foot. He claims the machine was defective in that the plate dropped at times before the lever, and that he told the company of it and a promise was given to have it repaired.

Dramer claims that the promise was not kept, and as a result, the plate descended on the day of the accident, badly crushing his hand. He asks $2,000 for the injury and $1,000 for loss of time.

HUNDREDS WILL CUT HEMLOCK

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United States Leather company of Boston, Mass., by contracting for several hundred laborers for work along Black River, Wis., shows intended resumption of activity in that district the coming year. This morning a car of fifty laborers left the Twin Cities for the Black River district, where the men will begin cutting hemlock.

The resumption of work at full capacity comes after one of the biggest slumps in the leather trade that it has ever suffered. Two years ago, on account of the large quantities of hemlock bark that were cut, the price slumped from $15 and $16 to $9 and $10. For a time the company operated in Maine, but the supply of hemlock trees there has been exhausted, and the hemlock timbers along the Black River in Wisconsin, practically contain all trees of that kind in the world.

Hemlock tanned leather is used for making the soles of shoes and other articles. The bark alone is used for this purpose, and after the trees have been skinned, the timber is cut up into lumber.

RUSSIAN IS RUDELY HANDLED

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 28.—M. Seragueieff, Russian minister to Servia, is much irritated over an unpleasant incident which occurred last night on the frontier between Servia and Hungary.

The minister crossed the Danube to Semlin, directly opposite Belgrade, for the purpose of meeting the king there. When returning, he was detained and roughly handled by the Austro-Hungarian police, who ransacked his baggage.

TACKLE KELLEY
QUITS STAGG

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Football sensation of magnitude was sprung when Kelley, the big right tackle of the Chicago team, deserted Stagg's squad. The star lineman refused to come out for practice declaring himself through with the Chicago team, because of what he believes to have been a humiliation visited on him by Coach Stagg.

Kelley's real motive for leaving the coach's act in shifting him from the regular right tackle position in Monday's practice. Coach Stagg gave Palk the position in scrimmage, and Kelley left Marshall field, believing himself misjudged.

Kelley's real motive in practice he announced that he would have no more to do with the team and that he would leave the university at the end of the week.

KERN DECRIES
WEALTH FOR FEW

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The special interurban electric car, carrying Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Kern, on his tour through Indiana, rolled into this city early today for a city-municipal state, the first on the itinerary. A big crowd gathered in the court house square to welcome the candidate. He spoke from a platform in the open air. The only other speaker was James B. Weaver of Iowa, twice candidate for president on the populist ticket.

Mr. Kern spoke at some length on the tariff issue, charging to protection the north of the nation and the accumulation of great wealth in the hands of the few. He referred to a speech made by Senator Pollette, in the senate last March, in which he declared that the tariff was a commercial and financial destiny of the country and supplemented that statement by the assertion that the tariff today has absolute domination of all the railroads in the country.

DENIES READING HAS COAL STOCK

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The hearing in the suit instituted by the government for the dissolution of the coal trust was resumed here today, and William R. Taylor, secretary of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, when questioned by James C. McFey, holds, special assistant United States attorney general, told of the earnings of three Reading companies and of the relations existing between the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, the latter a holding concern.

Taylor said the coal and iron company had never paid a dividend, but that the railway had in 1902 paid to the holding company 15 per cent, for two years the sum of 20 per cent, and during the last two years 30 per cent a year. The coal and iron company, he said, is indebted to the railway company to the extent of $80,000,000, which credit was inherited from the old Reading company, which was sold by the sheriff in 1886.

Mr. Taylor denied that the Reading Railway company owned any coal stock, but said the holding company was interested in several subsidiary companies.

They are trying to win the election by coercion, threatening employees the loss of employment if the Democrats win, and threatening the business world with a panic if the Republicans talk about a possible panic next year, do you hear, people cannot forget the actual panic of last year."

Mr. Bryan's hearers were largely made up of railroad men, and they greeted him cordially.

PANIC TALK AS
BOOMERANG--KERN

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—From Hartford City the Kern special doubled back to this city today, where a crowd had gathered filling the opera house. The threat of panic in the defeat of the Republican ticket, on which he dwelt yesterday, was the burden of Mr. Kern's talk here.

"President Roosevelt two years ago," he said, "declared that a little circle of Wall street speculators and bankers was going to create a panic to intimidate him and embarrass his administration. After being a sufferer himself from this power, he now declares to you that these men are strong enough to bring new disasters upon you. I submit to you, men of Indiana, whether it is not time to rally to the defense of that banner (pointing to an American flag before him) and put an end to such tyranny."

Assuring his hearers that the battle is already won, the speaker said "the old Democracy and the young are standing shoulder to shoulder in the people's movement to win back the government."

MONTGOMERY IN OWN DEFENSE

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—The second trial of William Montgomery, ex-cashier of the Allegheny National bank of this city, which failed during the summer for more than $1,000,000, was resumed today.

The accused man offered no defense in the first trial, and last Monday was found guilty on two indictments of embezzling and abstracting $465,000 of the bank's funds. Montgomery will be a witness during the second trial, in which he is charged with embezzlement and abstraction of $144,000 in bonds from the bank.

United States District Attorney Dunkle today called several directors of the Allegheny National bank as witnesses against Montgomery.

CAMPBELL IS APPOINTED

Contractor Succeeds John Miller on Courthouse Commission.

E. M. Patterson, chairman of the county board, yesterday appointed Lucius D. Campbell a member of the courthouse commission to succeed the late John Miller, who died Monday.

Mr. Campbell is senior member of the firm of L. D. Campbell & Co., general contractors. He is a practical man, well versed in building conditions in Duluth, public spirited and energetic, and he should make a valuable member of the commission. Although he will be handicapped by his lack of familiarity with previous work of the commission, his general knowledge of the conditions will enable him to work in nicely and co-operate with the other members of the commission in furthering the interests of the county in the erection of the new courthouse.

Mr. Miller was chairman of the courthouse commission and his loss will be keenly felt. Since the appointment he has been working in his efforts. At the next meeting of the commission, a new chairman will be chosen.

LONG, COLD WINTER DUE

The Long-Range Weather Prophets Are Making This Prediction.

Say Knowledge Comes From Watching Birds and Animals.

Although United States weather experts scoff at the predictions of woodsmen and others who attempt to tell what kind of a winter it is going to be by the actions of wild creatures of the forest, there are a great many people who place more faith in these long-range predictions than in any other kind.

If what the birds and animals are doing counts for anything in the way of indicating what sort of weather may be expected during the next few months, men versed in such things say Northern Minnesota should be prepared for a long and cold winter. All signs are said to point in that direction.

There are old settlers, trappers and trap-pers in Duluth every day who believe implicitly in these weather signs. Like fortune tellers, they do not use the same methods, but in the main they arrive at about the same results. The contention is that every wild bird and animal knows by instinct what kind of weather is expected, so far as the general range of temperature in any given season is concerned, and the forest weather prophets say anyone can become efficient at the business by becoming acquainted with the habits and characteristics of creatures of the field and forest. One man claims to know by the way in which the muskrat builds his house whether the winter will be cold or moderate, and another may have his predictions on the movements of wild ducks and geese, or any one of the numerous fur-bearing animals of this section of the country.

The muskrat is generally considered as being the most reliable of dumb weather prophets. It is said that this year the animals are building their houses larger than usual, with thicker walls. This is taken as an indication of a long and severe winter. The fur of the mink, pine marten and fox is said to be in prime condition now, which is earlier than usual. Being prime means that it is in shape to with stand the rigors of winter, and when it gets in such a condition early, it is supposed to indicate a long and cold winter. Fur is marketable only during the cold months.

Hunters do not place so much faith in a weather indicator as they did in the years past. Most of them now say that the birds start flying South the first cold spell, and stop along the way whenever they strike warm weather, sticking there until driven on again by a cold wave. When they actually feel the cold, and not when they merely think it is due.

For Protection of Watches.
It is well to know that if the wearer of an ordinary watch approaches too near a powerful dynamo he runs the risk of having his time piece put out of commission. Cases of shields for the protection of watches against magnetism are now on the market. These shields are made of a special material, and are used in the daily use of a good many watches. They are a wonderful, revivifying food drink. Write your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch, Minneapolis Brewing company.

LYCEUM—"Love and the Law" (see notice below).

"LOVE AND THE LAW."

New Play Has Good Material, But Needs Some Pruning.

The first production on any stage of "Love and the Law," Ferdinand Gottschalk and Roy MacGregor's political drama, was given at the Lyceum theater last evening by the Mack-Leone company. The fact that it was a first production, and that it was unpruned, to deal with one of the great problems of the day, drew a large audience. Except in one or two unimportant details, the work of the company as a whole, was exceptionally good, and the scene setting came up to the high standards set by this popular theatrical aggregation.

The play itself hardly came up to expectations, even considering the fact that it was a first production. There will be some pruning before the production starts in on the remainder of the week's run. With the changes contemplated, which will be made before tonight, the attraction will be made much stronger, it is claimed.

From the general tone of the story told in the play, the average theatergoer will say there is material for a good production. Love and labor take an important part, as well as politics. The last night's audience, however, left the theater with the impression that the authors were not entirely familiar with American labor and political conditions. A few changes in the dialogue and some of the scenes should remedy this. The interest is well carried out, and Miss Maud Leone gives a good account of herself in a part which does not call for especially strong acting.

As Natalie Rathbone, daughter of a rich mill owner, she is pictured as falling in love with Spencer Cavendish, a dentist, who is an inveterate abstemious. The dentist is a good fellow, but the abstemious habit has such a hold upon him that, try as he may, and with the sympathetic help of his friends, he is unable to shake himself free. There is a strike of hands at the mill, which develops into an important factor in a state election. The governor and lieutenant governor become involved, and there is a plot on foot, engineered by the political boss of the state, to involve the lieutenant governor in such a manner that he will lose his hold with the people, by apparently being responsible for unwise acts for which the governor, a mere political tool, is to blame. Incidentally, the lieutenant governor is very much in love with the mill owner's daughter.

Through the timely intervention of the dentist, the plans of the political boss go astray, and the death of the governor puts the whole situation in the hands of the lieutenant governor. He comes out with colors flying.

Mr. Mack is always good in character work. His part last night was cleverly taken, and showed much careful study. Henry M. Hicks handled the part of Francis Joyner did good work, although there were times when he did not appear as natural as could be desired. Francis Joyner did good work as the governor and Jay Quikley gave a very satisfactory performance as the part of the boss. Marshall Earnum appears to exceptional advantage as Col. Broadacres, and Earl Met-

Butler, daughter of the well-known war correspondent, Charles P. Butler, attended a performance of "The Great Divide" at the Lyric Theater in Cincinnati, up to a year before that time the couple had been sweethearts and were engaged to be married, but for one year they had not met. Neither knew of the presence in the theater of the other until they met, face to face, after the curtain had fallen. In the lobby of the theater they met. The meeting was a bit strange, "Isn't it a great play?" remarked

Hayden, by way of saying something. "Yes," sighed Miss Butler, "especially the ending. That is the way all such things should end."

"Would you?" "Do you mean it?" asked Hayden, excitedly as he grasped her hand.

"Yes," declared Miss Butler, forgetting that she was to marry Jacob Otten of 418 Vine street, 48 years old, but wealthy, the next week.

"Yes, I mean it, George, if you do," the next morning the young people, accompanied by their parents, appeared before Justice Davis and were married.

"The Follies of 1907."
James Manley, who will burlesque John Rockefeller and Mark Twain in "The Follies of 1907," at the Lyceum, enjoys a personal acquaintance with both celebrities. For several years he drew a salary from Rockefeller, says the St. Louis Republic.

John D. happened to witness a performance of Rockefeller's "Follies" at the Jardin de Paris, New York, and later J. D. happened to witness a performance of Manley's "Follies" at the Lyceum, and he was so impressed with the little dinky hat and the proper way he carried it that he decided to have Manley represent him. All which Mr. Manley replied that he thought it no star or o' the kind to have a clean-cut caricature of one of the greatest figures in American finance.

John D. is said to have smiled and bowed when you worked for me that you would some day be acting a stunner character named to represent me. All I have to say is that I hope you don't really think that I deserve to be caricatured. Mr. Manley does not say what his reply was, but still claims the oil king as a friend.

Mark Twain also went to see himself caricatured, but he was pleased with the "picture" presented of himself, and went back on the stage and complimented his proxy for the excellent appearance of the character and the neat little speech induced in him.

"The Follies of 1907," will be at the Lyceum next Monday and Tuesday.

PINE KNOTS MACERATED IN WHISKY

The shavings of a pine knot macerated or soaked in Whisky is the remedy of the old mountaineer and backwoodsman for rheumatism and pain in the joints and limbs. From time immemorial the medicinal properties of Pine have been valued highly. Whenever possible, physicians recommend that consumptive patients camp out in the Pine forests, where, asleep or awake, they must constantly inhale the pine-laden atmosphere, bathing the lungs with the healing, health-giving and invigorating air.

Unfortunately, there are but few whose circumstances will permit them to leave home and work to live in the open. Those who must stay at home will find in the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure that therapeutic virtue for which the Pines are famous. It is a combination of the active principles of the Pine and Santalwood, carefully compounded to retain the well-known healing properties of these trees.

A half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure mixed with two ounces of Glycerine and a half-pint of good Whisky will bring an aching twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. It is better to purchase the ingredients separately and prepare the mixture at home. Be sure to use only the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, prepared by the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O.

RECEPTION FOR OLD PEOPLE

Annual Affair Being Held at First M. E. Church.

The annual Old Folks' reception is being held this afternoon at the First M. E. church, corner of Third avenue west and Third street.

At about this time every year, all the old people of the city are invited to attend a social gathering given especially for them. They were invited to come today at 2 o'clock and stay until 6 o'clock. At 4 o'clock a lunch will be served.

Every old person is asked to be present. If they possibly can come, in some cases carriages are sent to get the more feeble ones, so that they may be present to enjoy the renewing of old acquaintances and the making of new ones.

REJECTED BY LOVER. GIRL TAKES HER LIFE.

Austin, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—After suffering in terrible agony from sublimated poison she took with suicidal intent, Miss Edith Height is dead at her home here. It is said that she was to have been married Oct. 22, but the man in the case went back on his promise, and this drove her to take the poison, which she administered in a cup of coffee. After drinking the fatal draught she bade her mother good night and retired. The next morning she was found writhing in agony, and frantic efforts to counteract the deadly effects of the poison, died in great agony.

HANDING THE TAILORS A LEMON

Harry Mitchell's tailor made-to-order Suits and Overcoats makes 'em 'dippy.'

Hear 'em chirp and chatter.

Did you ever go into a bird store and listen to the chirp and chatter of the feathered kind? Well, that is just like listening to the little jerk-water and hand-me-down dealers when they get together and fall to talking about Harry Mitchell.

See how I hand 'em all this lemon: Finest tailor made-to-order Scotch cloth suit or overcoat for $15; would cost you of any other tailor $30. English goods made to order, $20; would cost you of any other tailor $40. And special goods (made expressly for my trade) $25, that no other tailor can touch for $50.

Do you wonder that their business is slipping away from 'em. It hurts their pocketbooks.

See? Yours truly,

HARRY MITCHELL,

Duluth, Store at East Superior St., the old Y. M. C. Bldg., Two Doors East of Elgin Theater.

CHINESE EAGERLY AWAIT ARRIVAL OF AMERICAN SAILORS

Amoy, China, Oct. 28.—In 1898 a slip of ivory from Gen. Lee's grave was planted in the grounds of the Amoy club, and this afternoon a bronze tablet was set in an adjacent rock by American residents of Amoy. The tablet is inscribed: "This ivory was taken from the grave of Gen. Robert E. Lee and planted by Vice Consul Carrington in 1898." Capt. James H. Reeves, the American military attaché at Peking and the Taotais Tsao Wong and Li, delegated by Vice-roy Tawu Fang of Nanking, arrived here today to attend the reception to the American battleships. The supply ship Calcutta put out to sea today to communicate with the fleet by wireless telegraphy. She will return tomorrow morning.

Wednesday: Nov. 4, departure of fleet.

Amoy, China, Oct. 28.—When the Chinese government selected Amoy as the port to receive the second squadron of the American battleship fleet, made wise choice. The broad, well-protected harbor, the climate (from October to April) unsurpassed and the scenic beauty of the surrounding country all unite in justifying the selection.

The second squadron consists of the battleships Louisiana, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Kentucky, and Kansas, under command of Rear-Admiral William H. B. Hornby and according to the itinerary they are due here Oct. 23, and will remain until Nov. 4.

The Chinese government has set aside the sum of $100,000 (U. S. gold $200,000) to meet the expense of entertaining the battleship squadron during its visit. The committee in charge of the arrangements has stated that the Peking government has signified its willingness to make an additional appropriation should the original appropriation prove inadequate.

The following officials have been designated by the Peking government to constitute a reception committee: An Imperial prince, the vice president of the foreign board, Peking, the viceroy of Fukien province, the governor of Guangdong, the admiral in command of the Chinese squadron, the major-general of the Peking division, the Taotai of Amoy, the special commissioner Chien Yu and Mai Hsi Chien, (Dr. George Mark). The management of the preparations for the reception has been placed in the hands of Commissioner Dr. Mark, assisted by the Taotai of Amoy and Commissioner Chien Yu.

Dr. Mark accompanied the excellency, Li Hsing Shang, as interpreter on his tour around the world about sixteen years ago, and has provided himself exceedingly well qualified to manage the arrangements for the reception.

Amoy is well adapted to the reception of the fleet. The harbor is probably the best on the China coast. Although Amoy city, like most Chinese cities, is dirty and decidedly uninviting, yet there is a large open plot of ground, known as the drill grounds and race course, about one mile distant from Amoy city, and directly accessible from the sea. This plot of ground is being cleared and leveled for the purpose of the entertainment. On the south and east it is surrounded by picturesque hills, while on the north and west is the sea. Thus, it will not be necessary upon this occasion for any one to enter the city of Amoy. The foreigners resident in the port of Amoy live on the island of Kulangsu, opposite Amoy city. This island comprises what is known as the Kulangsu International settlement, and is governed in a manner similar to the Shanghai International settlement. The reception and festivities given the Chinese in connection with the fleet's visit will be on the open plot of ground above mentioned, yet the reception to be given the officers by the foreign community will be given on Kulangsu.

Distinctly Chinese. The Chinese reception and entertainment will be distinctly Chinese in its nature, yet so planned as not to be inconsistent with the American ideas.

VERNON A CANDIDATE. Enters Race for Appointment as Clerk of the House.

The first candidate to enter the field for the office of chief clerk of the house for the session of 1903, is Archibald H. Vernon of St. Paul.

Mr. Vernon was assistant clerk two years ago and proved himself an efficient officer. His knowledge of legislative methods and the general information he gathered during his service as assistant clerk, should make him a valuable addition to the new members of the legislature. He is well known favorably among the older members.

Mr. Vernon has prepared a little pamphlet containing the names of the legislative candidates, which is being distributed with his credentials. It is an effective method of advertising his candidacy.

of enjoyment. The grounds are circular in shape, and a road thirty feet wide will lead from the sea to these grounds. A distance of about one-quarter of a mile. This road continues a half mile further and connects with a beautiful Chinese temple (Nan Fu Tou Miao) in the hills to the south of the grounds. Clusters of bamboo at intervals of every ten feet have been planted along each side of the road for its entire distance. Chinese lanterns will be strung along through these clusters of bamboos.

An electric light plant capable of supplying 10,000 candle-power lights will be installed, and whenever these lights are used they will be dropped into Chinese lanterns, thus maintaining the Chinese effect. A series of bamboo and mat sheds have been constructed about the circular plot of ground. The main building, to be known as the officers' hall, will be 200 by 60 feet and is so situated as to afford a splendid view of the whole field.

There is a stage for Chinese theatricals in one end of the building. Accommodations for dining and entertaining 500 people will be provided in this hall. A veranda on the front and ends of the hall directly overlooks the baseball diamond and the race track. Directly opposite the hall, on the other side of the field, has been erected a gorgeous Chinese arch, which will be outlined in electric lights. This arch will serve as one of the entrances to the grounds.

Ten buildings constructed of bamboo and Chinese matting, or bamboo on the circle, will provide dining accommodations for 3,000 men. Two large buildings, each capable of accommodating 1,000 people, will serve as the mess hall and kitchen. A large structure has been erected for an exhibition hall and theater, where Chinese merry games and curios may be exhibited and sold. Banners on the circle, nearly opposite the officers' hall, is a picturesque display. This knoll has the advantage of being visible from the sea, thus, where the Chinese merry games and curios may be exhibited and sold, the men on board the vessel in the harbor may see them from their ships.

In the plan of decorations, so far as possible, the American and Chinese colors only have been used.

Young men from the Tung Wen Institute, an American-Chinese school, act as interpreters for the visiting officers and men.

Entertainment upon the suggestion of the American consul, Julian H. Arnold, the entertainment for the men will consist for the most part in a carnival of sports. Two handsome silver cups, to each, will be awarded as prizes to the ships winning the baseball and football games. A telegram was sent to Admiral Sperry at Auckland requesting that the preliminary games be played before arrival at Amoy, leaving the semi-finals and finals for Amoy. To this request Admiral Sperry assented. Boat races and other sports will also form part of the program; for these, prizes aggregating about $1,000 will be awarded.

Instead of presenting each visitor with a medal or button, as is customary on such occasions, Commissioner Mark has arranged to present each officer with a Chinese cloisonne vase and to each man a Chinese cloisonne cup.

NINETEEN SALOONS

LIMIT IN MUNISING.

Munising, Mich., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Voting to limit the liquor business in the village, the common council has passed an ordinance providing that not more than 19 saloons be licensed in the village. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10-9. There are nineteen saloons now, and these places doubtless will have a monopoly on the traffic in intoxicants for a number of years. At present the town at present has only about 2,000 people. It is provided that only one saloon be licensed in those places where there are less than 500 inhabitants and above 10,000.

WOMEN ARE TO BE HELD

Alleged Inmates of Baudelette Resort Still in County Jail.

Government to Prosecute Them for Violating Immigration Laws.

Benidji, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—United States immigration inspector Charles Carr of Wright has lodged Martha Wright and Virginia Marselles, who were taken from a house of ill repute in Baudelette, in the Benidji county jail on commitments charging both with entering the United States without inspection and specially charging the latter with being an inmate of a bawdy house within three years subsequent to entry. The Wright woman was taken from the county jail by inspector Swanwick about ten days ago to Baudelette to appear as a witness at the hearing of Bert Clark, who operated the house from which she and Marselles were taken and who was arrested by the immigration authorities for the illegal importation of aliens. Clark was charged with importing the Wright woman and Virginia Marselles from Winnipeg but was acquitted upon the hearing which was held before Commissioner Berg.

The two women will be held in the county jail until further action is taken by the immigration bureau, probably twenty-five or thirty days.

CAME FROM MINNESOTA.

Man Who Perished in Doanysbrook, N. D., Jail.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 28.—W. E. Dythch, who was burned to death in the Doanysbrook jail last night, was a native of Minnesota, according to coroner Larson.

Dythch, who was about 35, had a pass on the Great Northern railroad issued May 17, 1908, charged to the account of the section foreman at Breckenridge and good to Great Falls, Mont. He was on his way to Montana, and at Des Moines got on the Crosby freight train. When he discovered his mistake, he had reached Aurelia, where he was put off. He went to the hotel and when anyone would ask if he had money, he said, "Yes, I can get money." He would start out of the street in search of money. The man's condition was reported to the constable who called up justice King at Bowbells, who ordered the man taken to Doanysbrook, from which place he was to be taken to Minot.

GRAND FORKS LYNNING.

Quarter of a Century Ago Brute Got Short Shift.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-five years ago, Saturday, Oct. 24, Grand Forks was the scene of a sensational affair in the way of a lynching. One William Thurber, a negro, attempted an assault on the wife of a conductor, living on her claim near Thompson, then known as Norton station. The brute was pursued, captured, identified and placed in the city jail the same evening. A few hours later a mob battered down the city jail the same evening. The jail was looted, with the intention of lynching him then. The mob was dispersed, however, and induced the mob to desist, with the assurance that speedy justice would be meted out.

Thurber was removed the next day to rooming jail, a small wooden structure, standing at that time near the railroad crossing on Fourth street.

A mob a little later attacked the jail and after several ineffectual attempts to batter down the doors, took the keys from Sheriff Jenks, and without further ceremony a rope was placed about the doomed man's neck and swung into eternity. The affair occasioned wide comment, but there were no arrests, and few regrets were expressed.

How to Reduce Fat

The Simplest and Surest Way to Get Rid of Fat

Said a Noted Physician, is Rengo.

The Above Illustration Plainly Shows What Rengo Has Done For Others. It Will Do the Same For You. Try It.

There has become known a remedy for fat, the use of which has already resulted in enormous benefit, and most probably in the saving of many lives. This remedy is commonly called Rengo. The rate at which this remedy will reduce fat, and do so harmlessly, is a fact which is well known to all. A pound of fat is ordinarily the loss recorded, being done by compelling perspiration, and the loss of fat, and sending the nutriment where it belongs. The most remarkable feature of Rengo is that you can take all you want of it without running the slightest risk of harm. It can be chewed like candy and is pleasant to the taste. Many physicians, who before were at a loss to know how to cure obesity, are now prescribing Rengo with remarkable success. It is a great nerve strength producer, affecting digestion primarily, and inducing a general exhilaration of mind and body. Wrinkles, which appear in nearly every case of reduction of fat where indigestion, flatulence and starvation process is tried, do not occur where Rengo is used.

Acid and Alkali In The Stomach

Digests The Food Naturally If In Right Proportion; If Not:

Acid and alkali make up the liquid known as gastric juice, which digests your food. If through abuse of the stomach, or weakness of blood or through excess of other causes this gastric juice is not made up correctly of acid and alkali, your stomach cannot digest food. Such a stomach then acts as a pit where the food lies, ferments, decays, is thrown off at last, either into the intestine or is vomited from the system.

If thrown into the intestines a large portion of it is taken up and passed into the blood, for the intestines are covered on the inside surface with millions of little mouths which are placed there to suck up nourishment for the blood.

You may readily see that if instead of good rich nourishment, there is vile poisonous fermented bile and acid, these same little mouths suck some of it by necessity and pass it into the blood. The blood in turn throws it off and the system is immediately placed in an imperfect state.

The blood is weakened, the tissues lose strength, the skin becomes discolored and man in general suffers in a score of places.

Then again the blood furnishes gastric juice to the stomach, for when the gastric juice is not needed for digestive purposes it goes back to the stomach, and the blood immediately furnishes sufficient gastric juice to do the work well and quickly. The blood for help and the blood immediately furnishes sufficient gastric juice to do the work well and quickly.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into the stomach, balance the gastric juice, digest the food, are taken up by the blood, purifies it, and when the food comes again to the stomach a natural gastric juice of right proportion greets it and does its work perfectly. After a course of these little tablets restore Nature, build up the gastric juice and there is no longer dyspepsia.

Every dyspeptic carries them in stock price 50c; every druggist and 40,000 physicians will attest their word to the merit of these tablets. Buy a box now and relieve your stomach at once, or send us your name and address and we will send you immediately by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. POLICE TO BE ON GUARD

They Will Prevent All
Rowdyism in Duluth on Halloween.

Only Reasonable Amount of Fun Will be Tolerated.

Chief of Police Troyer says he does not object to anybody having a good time on Halloween, which comes next Saturday, Oct. 31, but if he or any of his men find any one going farther than a mere good time, and becoming disorderly and of a destructive disposition, he asserts that the offenders will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

There is nearly always more or less disorder on Halloween in every town, and Duluth is no exception to the rule. The police have instructions this year to exercise unusual vigilance, and arrest any one who becomes too active in his efforts to celebrate the occasion. The destruction and removal of property in the way of gates, vehicles, out-buildings, etc., will not for a moment be tolerated. If necessary, special officers will be sworn in to prevent this.

As Duluth is a city of hills, the street car rails down some of the steepest streets and avenues offer tempting opportunities to the small boy for dangerous fun. Soaping the rails, or otherwise grossing them so the car wheels would refuse to perform their proper duties was at one time a popular amusement in Duluth on Halloween, but the police managed to put a stop to the practice, which really endangered the bones of luckless passengers on board the cars, which tried to make the grades in spite of the slippery condition of the rails.

Now it is customary for policemen to carefully guard sections of the track where the grade is pronounced, and this year it is understood that officers will conceal themselves in the vicinity of such grades, the better to capture offenders. It will go hard with any one trying the trick, for the offense is regarded as being more serious than almost any other Halloween prank. The fact that it is dangerous to others puts it outside of the joke field.

Often the most pranks are played in the outlying districts. These will be patrolled carefully by the police next Saturday evening. As long as the observance of the night is reasonable in their fun making, they will not be disturbed, but if it comes to where they overstep the line of fun, it will be up to them to keep a weather eye open for the police.

TAFT'S REAL RECORD ON LABOR SUPPRESSED BY MR. ROOSEVELT

National Representative Fuller of Locomotive Engineers Writes President—Nominee Called Late Grand Chief Arthur a Conspirator.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 28.—H. R. Fuller of Beaver Falls, Pa., national legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Railroad Trainmen, last night gave the Associated Press a copy of a letter, which he yesterday mailed to President Roosevelt, commenting upon the president's letter to H. P. Grace, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who, in behalf of himself and associate railroad employees, wrote the president asking how they could best serve their own interests in the present campaign. The president's reply urged the support of Taft for the presidency and discussed at length the candidate's attitude on questions affecting labor. In his letter Mr. Fuller says: "I am at a loss to understand why Mr. Grace should seek information and advice regarding Taft's attitude toward the railroad employees of the country from the very one whose influence and administration were used to bring about his nomination, and is now being used to secure his election when Mr. Taft's labor decisions have been discussed in the lodge rooms and printed and commented upon in the magazines of the various organizations of labor, including those of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, of which Mr. Grace and myself are members. Had he consulted such publications, he would have been given the complete labor record of Mr. Taft, rather than a partial one, and both he and his fellow employees throughout the country, who read your reply would be in possession of the facts rather than being in the position of having been misled by the president of the United States. The most important part of Mr. Taft's labor record is conspicuous by its absence from your reply, and it is to supply this deficiency that I write this letter."

Mr. Fuller then refers to the decision of ex-Judge Taft in the United States circuit court for the Southern district of Ohio, April 20, 1894, denying the petition of employees of the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific railroad, that an order of the receiver compelling wages 10 per cent be rescinded. He quotes at length from the decision in which Mr. Taft states that "from a strictly legal standpoint the employees have no standing in this court to call for an adjudication of any rights.

The court is limited in the exercise of its discretion to such action as may be consistent with the preservation of the property and its administration in the interests of those who own it.

The reduction was approved. May 21 following Mr. Fuller's letter states, the employees petitioned the court to direct the receiver to modify the wage scale, which Judge Taft declined to do. The decision on this petition is quoted at length, including reference to a change in pay for overtime, which virtually was a reduction in wages. Trainmen heretofore had been paid overtime when a train was over thirty-five minutes late, but by a rule of the receiver this was changed to overtime for two hours or more late, the receiver alleging that under the old rule trains were unnecessarily delayed. The decision upheld this change. It also recited that while some railroads in the same district were paying higher wages for similar service, others were paying the same or less.

Mr. Fuller contends it is an injustice to compel employees to work overtime without compensation.

Taking up another phase of Judge Taft's record, the letter says:

"You also failed to give all of Taft's record with regard to important labor matters on the Panama canal. Jan. 15, 1906, Mr. Taft, together with his staff from the Panama canal, went before the house committee on appropriations and asked that the operation of the eight-hour law be suspended on that work."

The letter then quotes evidence given before the committee by Judge Taft, J. F. Stevens, chief engineer; T. P. Shonts, chairman of the Indian canal commission; R. S. Benson, general auditor, and D. W. Ross, general purchasing officer.

As a result of the testimony of those gentlemen, congress placed a provision in the urgent deficiency bill, suspending the operation of the eight-hour law in the construction of the isthmian canal. True it is that this provision applied to alien labor only; yet so far as Mr. Taft and his staff were concerned, they desired it to apply to all classes of labor, Americans included.

In rendering his decision in the Ann Arbor case, ex-Judge Taft went so far as to call the late P. M. Arthur, then grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and one of the most conservative labor leaders in the world, a conspirator."

HONOR TO HARRISON

Monument of Late President Unveiled in Indianapolis.

Fairbanks Speaks and James Whitcomb Riley Reads Poem.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Benjamin Harrison monument yesterday afternoon was preceded by a parade in which all of the G. A. R. posts of the city numbering 700 participated as well as 500 members of the regular army, 500 of the National Guard and 500 of the National Guard and 500 of the National Guard. The speakers were Vice President Fairbanks, Gen. John W. Noble, Mr. Harrison's secretary of the Interior, and John L. Griffith, the Harrison biographer. James Whitcomb Riley read a poem written for the occasion.

Miss Elizabeth Harrison's part in the exercises made the event unusually pretty. Escorted by four members of her father's regiment, the Seventeenth Indiana, she walked from the reviewing stand on the south side of the street to the monument. There she pulled the cord that unveiled the figure. The veils were two flags, one representing the army and the other the navy. The cords pulled by the girl drew the flags from around the statue and suspended them one on each side. A company from the Tenth regiment saluted with their guns. Then the veterans acting as a guard of honor to the daughter drew the flags to tall poles at each side. The pole at the right bore the ensigns of the army and that at the left the insignia of the navy.

President Roosevelt sent a laurel wreath and cut flowers, which were placed at the base of the monument. In his address Mr. Fairbanks began with the review of the efforts of Gen. Benjamin Harrison's Memorial association to have erected a suitable monument to perpetuate the memory of the late president. The memorial association was organized, continued the speaker, on April 20, 1904, and promptly and systematically entered upon the work of placing subscriptions by an appeal to the people of the United States.

Mr. Fairbanks devoted the remainder of his remarks to the services Harrison had rendered his country. He said: "In every relation of life from the beginning he set his eyes upon high ideals and whether at the bar upon arduous field, in the senate of the United States, or in the office of chief executive, he held fast to them."

"Gen. Harrison possessed great natural ability, and there was coupled with a genius for labor. Whatever object engaged, his attention was mastered. He never submitted to the people hastily, or ill-considered conclusions. He both spoke and wrote out of the fullness and accuracy of knowledge."

"Gen. Harrison commanded respect in every field in which he wrought. He was a leader by common consent. His soldierly qualities in his young manhood won admiration for him among his comrades and those above him in command. He advanced at the bar by steady and certain strides until he attained the acknowledged leadership of his profession in the entire country. He was one of the foremost members of the senate of the United States."

"As chief executive he made a record characterized by statesmanship of the highest order, and by a mastery of the problems which challenged his consideration place among the best the country has ever had. His occupancy of the highest office within the gift of his countrymen did not exalt him. He exalted the office. He will stand in the history of his country, when it is impartially written, as one of the nation's great presidents."

TEAR DOWN TO CHECK THE FIRE

Flames Fighters Raze
Buildings After 100
Cottages Burn.

Salisbury, Mass., Oct. 27.—The greater portion of the thickly-housed summer colony at Salisbury beach was wiped out early today by fire, which destroyed 100 cottages along the beach front. Practically all the houses had been abandoned for the season. Loss, $100,000.

After the flames had raged three hours the fire-fighting forces of Amesbury, Salisbury and Newburyport, together with a half-dozen life savers from Salisbury beach station and little bands of volunteers, pulled down several cottages in the burning area and larger hotels and dance halls, and in this way prevented the fire from reaching that section. A few of the smaller hotels of the resort were burned.

Among the larger buildings which were destroyed were the Methodist Episcopal church and a school house.

Do you know that Resinol Soap

Is entirely different from ordinary soaps, and brings to the skin results far beyond their power to accomplish. It not only cleans the skin better but it also heals the abrasions and imperfections while its antiseptic virtues prevent such infection as might occur from contact with car straps and handles, schoolbooks, etc. It is entirely free from any injurious ingredients, and is so permeated with rich vegetable oils and medicated with RESINOL—the great skin-specific—that it acts on the skin like an invigorating tonic, clearing and exhilarating it in a really marvelous manner. You do not need to accept our statements for this—your use of RESINOL SOAP for only one month will demonstrate what it will do for you.

FORTY YAGUI INDIANS SLAIN IN BATTLE WITH THE PAPAGOS

El Paso, Oct. 28.—News reached here today that a battle between Papago and Yagui Indians has taken place north of Altar, Sonora, and that forty Yaguis were killed.

According to reports the Mexican government armed the Papagos, who fired the Yaguis into ambush and slaughtered them.

The fight was most bloody, the Yaguis leaving their bodies expiring on the field while they repeatedly advanced, only to be forced back. Many of the Papagos were injured, but according to all reports, none was killed.

The battle is the result of tribal animosity.

MEANING OF HALLOWEEN

Was Formerly a Vigil Preceding All Saint's Day.

Spirit of the Night Has Degenerated in Modern Times.

"This night is hallow-day," he said, "and tomorrow is hallow-day."

The night of Oct. 31, in olden times, was set aside for a vigil, preceding All Saints or All Hallow Day, Nov. 1. Out of the night watch, owing to the superstitions of that age, grew the belief that the evening of Oct. 31, was the period when the souls of the departed were allowed to come out of hiding and play all manner of pranks on human beings.

One of the most popular beliefs was that a young man or woman by looking into a mirror by candle light on that evening might see the face of their future wife or husband. The belief was that the face of the person whose fate was reflected in the mirror from behind, was destined to become the wife or husband of the person looking into the mirror.

Parties of boys and girls would conceal games set aside for that evening, and to be pleasantly frightened by the antics of the supernatural world. Witches rode brooms, and the whole world was crowded with imaginative beings.

The spirit of the evening, has in late years degenerated, to a more or less rowdyish demonstration on the part of their elders, though often the evening is devoted to old fashioned Halloween pastimes, such as ducking for apples, taking a bite out of a swig-bottle, and carrying their play into lawless destruction of property.

SIXTY FOOT DROP, MINER IS UNHURT

Remarkable Outcome of What Might Have Been Fatal Accident.

Aurora, Minn., Oct. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A most remarkable escape from serious injury, if not death, is reported from the Meadow mine. A passageway is being blasted from one level of the mine to another. Joe Zilberich was on top of the ladder Tuesday, and had set the fuse for a blast when his foot slipped and he fell a distance of sixty feet, and landed feet foremost. As he was falling he had the presence of mind to spread his arms to each side of the shaft, which kept his body from turning. Other than a few bruises he escaped unhurt and will be at work again inside of a week.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY AT AURORA WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

F. W. KUGLER IS IN CLEVELAND

Will Again Assume Charge of Store in Course of Year.

F. W. Kugler, the Duluth druggist, who left the city Sunday night after turning his business over to a representative of a St. Paul wholesale house, will return to the city in the course of six months as a year, and again assume charge of the store, according to the statement of Mrs. Kugler today.

Mr. Kugler was in the city at the time of his departure. The store was being operated under very heavy expense, and the stock was large. Mr. Kugler finally decided to turn the business over to his creditors to be operated until they could secure their claims against it. Meanwhile he planned to leave the city a rest and a change, which his family physician told him would benefit his health. As stated in The Herald last evening, all the debts against the store will doubtless be paid in full. Mr. Kugler is now in Cleveland and will take a position with a firm there.

Send Welcome to Emory. Shanghai, Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pursued by a crowd of angry farmers, Andrew Stein, who had taken refuge in a swamp after seriously shooting Joseph Gholowski, whom he had robbed, was captured last night near Stephenson and came pretty near being lynched by angry farmers. Stein is said to have shot his victim in the back for the purpose of robbery. Both were employed by Crawford & Sons at Cedar River.

Russian Patriot Released. St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Nicholas Teichkovsky, the aged Russian patriot who has been imprisoned in this city for nearly a year, was released this afternoon.

Working to Get Out Crowd. Virginia, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Moses E. Clapp and Chester A. Congdon of Duluth are working to get out the crowd of hunters from all parts of the district to the woods. City Clerk A. E. Blockford has laid in a supply of hunting licenses, and has already issued several. It is pretty difficult to determine whether deer are plentiful in the woods this fall. Many woodsmen say they are as plentiful as ever, while others claim that because of the excessive forest fire the deer have been driven many miles away.

BRIEF COURT SESSION IS HELD IN VIRGINIA. Virginia, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special term of the district court convened in the city Judge Dibel presiding, last evening. The judges were scheduled to open court here yesterday forenoon, but the large amount of cases to be taken care of at Hibbing deferred his arrival here until evening. A divorce case was the extent of the business transacted here, although a number of cases came up and were continued, and which will come up later for disposal at Duluth.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

THE BOWLERS
WILL ORGANIZEThere Will be But Four Teams in League
This Year.

The bowlers will reorganize at a meeting to be held tonight at the Central bowling alleys.

Instead of having six clubs, as was the case last year, there will be but four this year. The Fitts, the Big D, the Orphans, and the Central, have decided their intention of entering for another year's bowling, but the other two teams will drop out.

The bank teams will not bowl as teams this year, but the best bowlers from among their number will go to strengthen the remaining four clubs that comprise the league.

The Fitts team will have in its lineup the same men as last year, but the other clubs will have an entirely new makeup. There is much interest in the game now as the weather grows colder, and the teams expect to have another successful year.

WONDERS OF
INDOOR CIRCUSMany Marvels to be Seen at Y. M. C. A.
Burlesque.

The homeless wonders in their marvelous acrobatic evolutions. Bla-Bla Brothers, parallel bar artists.

Prof. Hane Bone and his educated mule, "Mau."

Lilliputian Troupe, aerialists who perform dizzy, dexterous illusions in mid-air.

Leaping elephants.

Zu Zui band.

"Smile 'Em" and "Got 'Em," the two world's best Bulgarian waltzers, in a twenty-minute riddle dance.

Gay Brothers, famous as horizontal Yip Yaps.

All these things and more are promised those that attend the great indoor circus to be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the gymnasium, Nov. 5 and 6.

August J. Frey made his debut this morning as a real live circus manager. He was minus the usual fat and the fat cigar and the professed breath, but he had everything else and more.

His face wore the satisfied grin of a successful circus manager, and in his hand he held one of those yellow bills, the cut rates on all railroads, and the general luncheon that goes with the white tents.

GOPHERS WORK AT FAIR GROUNDSDr. Williams Works His Warriors Out at Amphitheater.

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—Dr. Williams gathered together his little band of Minnesota football warriors yesterday afternoon and went for a little street car ride out to the state fair grounds, where a hard scrimmage practice was gone through. The Gopher coach had been patiently waiting for the rainy weather to pass off and ever since last Thursday the players have been trying to work in mud and rain. Yesterday, when the weather man refused to take a hand in the thing, the football coach decided to take his tribe over to the big amphitheater.

With the Chicago game but a few days off, and with a muddy field to work on, things began to look "scary" to the Minnesota bunch. Day after day the practice was put on in the mud and while this kind of work proved a good thing for a few days, Dr. Williams began to think that practice under fair weather conditions would prove more valuable to the Gopher warriors. Chicago will put a great team against the Minnesota aggregation and the Gophers are aware that they will have to hustle.

This game with Chicago is the crucial contest for Minnesota and every man will be in the game to deliver the best that is in him. The Chicago papers are full of dope, and the scribes are telling the general public through their columns that Saturday's battle will be one between teams playing old and new football. Stagg's men are said to be past masters at the forward pass, while according to the Windy City press, Minnesota will use nothing but line smashes and a few elusive end plays. Dr. Williams is said to be a back number as far as the forward pass is concerned, while Stagg's great trucks will bewilder the Gophers.

All of this dope is being swallowed whole by the Minnesota players, and rovers and everyone is satisfied to let the Chicago followers continue to point out Minnesota's weak points to the public. Stagg's aggregation of grid-iron battlers may beat the Gophers next Saturday, but a good hard fight may be promised by the Minnesota players. The Maroon game was talked of as Chicago's big contest two weeks ago, but as the date drew near, Maroon followers are beginning to feel that the fact that the north end must be put out of the way first.

Minnesota will be well represented in the stands at Chicago next Saturday, as thousands of rovers have signed every train in leaving the trip. About one thousand Minnesota students are planning to leave for the St. Louis road on Friday morning, while as many more will make the trip on the evening train. The football team will leave over the St. Louis road Thursday night, and a large delegation of rovers, accompanied by the university band, will see the players off.

DUCKS HAVE FLOWN SOUTHReturning Duluth Hunters Say They Are Now
Very Scarce.

The ducks have flown south. Duluth hunters who have returned to the city after a week's hunting in the duck country, say that they are now exceedingly scarce, and that the majority of the birds are hundreds of miles south of the Minnesota district.

Two well known Duluth sportsmen returned Monday from Big Bear Lake, in the vicinity of McGregor, Minn., after nearly ten days in the woods, succeeded in bagging twenty-five. They say that the remaining few are so wild and fly so high that it is most impossible to bring them down with the common heavy shot.

Those who got into the woods the early part of the season were successful in getting as many as they cared to take home, but the season is late now, only a very few remain, and the duck hunting season is considered over for this year.

All told it has been a successful season for hunters, small game of all kinds being abundant in the real game country.

MANAGER McGRAW IS OPTIMISTICSays He Sure Will Win
the Pennant Next Year.

New York, Oct. 28.—John McGraw, manager of the Giants, says:

"It will be hard to say just what will be done with the Giants until they meet in Marlin Springs, Tex., next spring. I am going to have a young army of ball players out there, and we are liable to get another winner out of the lot. Marlin Springs is the ideal climate and water are ideal. In addition, that it is a small town, and there is not much danger of the boys getting out of training.

"All our present team have been reserved, and there will probably be little change in the lineup. I will have in all about forty-four men. I will, therefore, have to wait and see what the youngsters look like."

McGraw says he thinks Doyle, one of the greatest players in America, is the greatest player in the world. He thinks Larry will be the star of the National League next season, both as an infielder and a hitter.

He looks upon Herzog as a very fast and a very valuable man, but evidently he intends to keep him for a utility man, as he can play anywhere and being a good pinch hitter, can be sent in at any time.

"I intend to get some good work out of Marquard and Durham," remarked McGraw, "and I expect them to show some speed in the race next year. You must not judge either of them by the end of the season. They both have all the natural ability that is necessary to make a good pitcher. What they need is a little training with a major league club. They both have lots to learn. There is nothing that does so much to bring out a pitcher as the working of him in exhibition games."

"When Marquard went in the box here I advised him just before going in not to try and put too much speed on the ball. I told him to be sure and get it over to the plate. Instead of that, however, he tried to throw his arm out and grew wild. After he has got used to the major league clubs he will not do that. I think he is going to make a great pitcher."

BOTH FIGHTERS
ARE CONFIDENTWhitehead and Johnson Are Ready for Thursday Night's Bout.

Chicago Jack Johnson, and Walter Whitehead are all ready for their bout, to be pulled off on the range, Thursday evening.

Both men are confident that they will be able to put the other away, and as they are both street boxers, who know the game, the bout should be a pretty contest. Notwithstanding the fact that Whitehead is some ten pounds lighter than his opponent, and has had less boxing experience, Duluth admirers of the big colored boy expect him to make a creditable showing.

The bout is scheduled to go fifteen rounds, Marquis of Queensbury rules. Thomas Madden will referee.

GLEAMS
FOG.

Although it was generally expected that the Minnesota team was beaten out of a touch-down in the Nebraska game by a questionable decision of the referees, the followers of the Maroon and Gold did not insist in the least on the injustice done. In New York, however, the scribbles took up the case and several headlines contained articles on the play. The following is a clipping from the New York Herald:

"In the case of Minnesota vs. Nebraska in their game Oct. 17, the referee's decision was to give the Cornhuskers on the defensive a second and for twenty minutes of the greater half the Nebraska players were fighting with the Minnesota players. There was a play in the game of direct interest to the spectators, and on which there was a difference of opinion. One of the Minnesota tactics took the ball, pushed through the line, and for an instant then, seeing an opening, went on and over the Nebraska goal line. The referee called the ball back on the ground that its forward progress had been stopped. It is a matter of course to pass upon the merits of this particular case without having seen it, but it may be said that the referee's decision should be considered as stopped every time a runner, being clear and in the yard line, is stopped. The rule on this point reads: 'A down occurs when the referee blows his whistle on the line of scrimmage whenever he (the runner) is so held that his forward progress has been stopped.' This rule is of recent adoption. It was designed to prevent the runner from gaining the ball from the runner when the latter had been stopped and was being held down, and was loosening his grip on the ball."

STIFF PRACTICE.
Yost is Drilling His Men in Forward Pass Plays.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 28.—Profiting by the mistakes that were shown in the O. S. U. game Saturday, the Michigan squad will put through another of those stiff practices which have become synonymous with the name of Yost. Although Yost could find no cause for complaint in the blocking abilities of his men, he devoted the first hour of practice to this feature.

Ohio backs were able to intercept the forward passes of Michigan backs in Saturday's game more successfully than any of the Wolverine opponents this year, and to offset anything the lengthy rehearsal in the open style and is confident that Vanderbilt will not seize the crown, as Ohio did.

PAPKE GOES WEST.
Hopes to Again Put a Crimp in Stanley Ketchel.

Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 28.—While most of Billy Papke's friends figure that he will have another clinch when he meets Ketchel in his coming battle, the middle-weight champion is not going to let over-confidence beat him.

Monday night, when he boarded the train for California, he said to a large delegation of his friends, who were at the station: "Boys, you will do my best to win." Papke is in the very "pink" of condition. He looks better, is stronger and more alert than ever before. He improves so much each day, and never once during his long stay at home has he referred to his coming bout. He left the fighting game to take his own course. Papke and those who worry little about future matches.

Eastern League Doubles Salary of President at Annual Meeting.

New York, Oct. 28.—At the annual meeting of the Eastern League, held at the Victoria hotel Tuesday, President P. T. Powers was re-elected. The great majority of the league members voted $5,000 for the ensuing year. The championship pennant for 1908 was awarded to the Baltimore club. President Powers was empowered to appoint a committee to endeavor, in co-operation with the American association, to secure more generous legislation as to the classification from the National Association of Professional Baseball players. The committee for new managers were hoisted around the hotel corridors during the day. Among them was that of George R. Stallings of Newark, for the New York American; Joe Kelley of the Boston Nationals for Toronto; again, Frank Howorman, to manage the Boston players, and Walter Burnham, formerly of Newark, for Rochester. None of these deals were consummated.

Rank Outsider Wins.
Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—The fourth race, a handicap at a mile and seventy yards, was the feature at Latona yesterday. Hanbridge, an outsider in the betting, won the fourth event in a drive by a half a length from Zelnip with Salile Preston third. Second choices and outsiders captured the six events. The track was fast.
Football Player Dies.
Logan, Utah, Oct. 28.—Thomas Evans of the Utah Agricultural college, right guard on the college football eleven, whose neck was dislocated last Saturday during a game with the Colorado School of Mines, died yesterday without regaining consciousness.
Fountainblue Wins.
Jamaica, L. I., Oct. 28.—The fall race meeting began at the Jamaica track yesterday with a small attendance and an even sadder day. The heavy rain made the track muddy, and the fields were greatly reduced by withdrawals. The feature event was the handicap at six furlongs, and resulted in a good contest. Fountainblue, trained by J. J. Quinn, won by a length from Cressina, with Question Mark third.

WILL RESIGN
FROM FORCENels P. Nelson Will Retire on a Police Pension.

Nels P. Nelson, one of the best-known members of the local police force, will resign from the department next Saturday, and will be placed on the pension roll after twenty years of active service. Chief Trovay, who has generally regretted the fact of Mr. Nelson leaving, for his record has been a good one, and his services have been popular with his fellow workers. For the last two decades he has been regarded as one of the most capable officers on the force.

Nelson was appointed by Mayor Sutphin in 1888, and has served continuously ever since. In the early days of his police career he was frequently hard and dangerous. Nelson always had his nerve with him, and he never failed to respond with all the energy at his command when duty called. He was in the thick of the riot on Garfield avenue on July 6, 1889, when two men were killed and a number of policemen were injured. For the last six years he was in the department he was stationed in the rear end, and for three years was sergeant, but when it became necessary to cut expenses in the department he was released several years ago. He willingly changed his work to that of patrolman in the rear end, and he was appointed conductor of the patrol wagon, and has been stationed regularly at headquarters ever since.

A year ago a drunken prisoner kicked within the police station, and he was not entirely well since that time. When Nelson announced it as his intention to resign, the police pension board held a meeting and decided to place him on the pension roll after twenty years of service.

Mr. Nelson, who resides at 315 Nineteenth avenue west, was the first Swedish resident to be appointed to the local police force.

KERN DEFIES COERCION OF REPUBLICANS

Says Votes That Will Sure of Victory Because Win for Bryan Can't Opponents Are Fighting be Bought. Among Themselves.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 28.—In his Decatur speech, John W. Kern said there are three methods by which Republicans party leaders hope to win. The first method, he said, is by the use of money which is "being poured into their treasury out of the treasuries of every legal monopoly in the land, and out of the treasury of every protected corporation." The second method, he said, was coercion, and the third, threat of panic.

"I am not afraid of their money," he continued, "because votes which are going to win this election are votes which all the money in this world cannot buy."

"The speaker then referred to Nicholas Biddle and his defiance of President Andrew Jackson, in 1831, and of every president since, who have tried to force the succeeding elections, which defeat money power for forty years."

"May God give you men of Indiana," he continued, "a new basis of patriotic power that you may go to the polls on Tuesday and strike a blow for liberty for which your forefathers fought."

Mr. Kern read extracts from a letter written in 1884 by Thomas A. Hendricks, referring to the cause of Democracy as the country's cause. This he said, tended to show that Democracy had always been, and is today the party of patriots.

One of the largest crowds that greeted the candidate on the day's tour was at Logansport. The townspeople had been stirred up politically earlier in the day by the visit of Senator Beveridge, who passed through in a special train, and hundreds of farmers were driven to town for the "double bill."

The speech-making took place from a platform erected in the court house yard. The crowd cheered heartily when Mr. Kern declared that wherever he had been during the campaign, in Northern New York, Connecticut and New Jersey, he found that the masses of the people have the cause—love and admiration for that great champion of the people's rights, William J. Bryan.

"We are going to win this time," he said, "because our opponents are divided, and they are not divided because Democracy is united—and thank God it is a cause that because we are everlastingly right on the issues of the campaign."

CURTIS TESTIFIES AND
ONUS IS PUT ON MORSE

DEFENSE IN BANK CASE SPLITS

New York, Oct. 28.—The expected split between Charles W. Morse, bank promoter, financier and "Ice Trust" organizer, and Alfred H. Curtis, president of the National Bank of North America, both of whom are under indictments charging them jointly with violation of the national banking laws, was the feature of the day in the trial before Judge Hough in the United States court here.

Before calling the ex-president of the suspended Bank of North America to the stand in his own behalf, ex-Judge W. M. K. O'Connell, Curtis' attorney, announced that he had persuaded his client "to tell all the facts."

"My client hopes," said he, "that his testimony will not injure any of the other directors or officers who had to do with the management of the affairs of the Bank of North America. It is not his purpose to point his finger at it; not I. He will, however, tell the facts."

Mr. Curtis began his testimony by relating his early career in the banking business. He had started at 14 in the office of a Wall street broker, and, graduating ten years later to a clerkship in the Bank of the State of New York, the institution subsequently purchased by Morse and upon his return, he recounted, and after assisting Edwards, installed Curtis as president. Morse, the witness testified, carried a balance of between $100,000 and $150,000 with the bank, and came up for the purpose of the position of cashier, which capacity he had over-certified to the amount of $400,000.

Morse was, at the time vice president and director of the bank. During an absence abroad Mr. Morse was deposited by President Edwards upon his return, he obtained control of the bank by purchasing a majority of the stock. Curtis recounted, and after assisting Edwards, installed Curtis as president. Morse, the witness testified, carried a balance of between $100,000 and $150,000 with the bank, and came up for the purpose of the position of cashier, which capacity he had over-certified to the amount of $400,000.

S.S.S. RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which gradually gets into the circulation because of indigestion, constipation, weak kidney action, and other irregularities of the system which are sometimes considered of no importance. This uric acid causes an inflamed and irritated condition of the blood, and the circulation instead of nourishing the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the nerves, muscles, tissues and joints, the irritating, pain-producing acid with which it is filled. Rheumatism can only be cured by a thorough cleansing of the blood, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing the uric acid and driving it from the blood, effectually and surely removes the cause. S. S. S. strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, causing pain and agony throughout the system, it becomes an invigorating, nourishing fluid, furnishing health and vigor to every part of the body and relieving the suffering caused by this disease. S. S. S. being a purely vegetable blood purifier, is the surest and safest cure for Rheumatism in any of its forms. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Chafin and Watkins in Ohio—Hilsen in New Jersey.

New York, Oct. 29.—The two principal candidates for president, William H. Taft and W. J. Bryan, following a day of busy campaigning up-state, will reach Syracuse tonight, where both are scheduled to speak. Mr. Taft began the day's tour with a speech at Lyons, then traveled eastward, his itinerary calling for stops at Canastota, Oswego, Seneca Falls and Auburn. Mr. Bryan's last day of campaigning in New York state carried him westward and included speeches at Cohoes, Albany, Eliza and Rome. Former Judge Alton B. Parker expects to speak with Mr. Bryan at the Syracuse meeting.

The running mates of Taft and Bryan continued their campaign work today in their home states. Mr. Sherman speaking at Albany, while Mr. Kern's itinerary called for addresses at several meetings in Indiana.

Three cabinet members will address voters in as many states tonight. Secretary Cortelyou will speak in New York, Secretary Root in Toledo, Ohio, and Postmaster General Meyer in Duluth, Minn.

Eugene W. Chafin and A. S. Watkins, prohibition presidential and vice presidential candidates, are in Ohio today; Thomas L. Hilsen, presidential candidate of the independence party, is in New Jersey, and Eugene W. Chafin, the socialist candidate, is traveling in his "red special" through Illinois.

Hutchison and Mrs. Swinford arrived Tuesday and were married by Rev. M. T. Chanler of the Methodist church. They returned to Cincinnati and Wednesday Hutchison came back to Paris and made an attempt to have the marriage set aside. Finding he was unable to do this, he went to the livey stable and fired a bullet through his brain.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—C. H. Hansen, who recently resigned as Danish consul in Chicago, has received the order of the Dannebrogsmænd from King Frederik according to advice which reached his friends here today. The honor is unusual because Hansen had already been made a knight of Dannebrog, and shows it is held that his good work for his countrymen is appreciated.

MEMORY OF GERMAN AMBASSADOR
VON STERNBERG IS HONORED

Washington, Oct. 29.—Beautiful memorial services, attended by a brilliant assemblage of representatives of all branches of official life in Washington, were held today in memory of the late Freiherr Speck von Sternberg, German ambassador to the United States, who died at Heidelberg Aug. 23.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, members of his cabinet, diplomatic representatives of all nations, members of the supreme court of the United States, high officials of the government and officers of the army, navy and marine corps, many of whom were accompanied by their wives, were present. The services were held in the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist, which was attended by Baron von Sternberg during his residence here. The service lasted but three-quarters of an hour, and was conducted partly in German, by Rev. Paul A. Menzel, pastor of Concordia church, and partly in English, by Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's church.

Freiherr Speck von Sternberg, widow of the late Baron, accompanied by Count Hermann von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, charge d'affaires, and her mother, Mrs. Langhain, Louisville, Ky., were present. The service was opened with a rendition of Chopin's funeral march on the organ, accompanied by the French horn quartette of the Marine band, the latter being stationed in the adjoining chapel. Hymns were rendered during the services by a vocal choir of forty boys and men from St. John's church.

by the Republican Committee.

New York, Oct. 29.—National Chairman Mack declared his belief today that the Taft and Chanler Business Men's league, which is seeking to secure the election of Taft for president and Chanler for governor is being financed by the Republican national committee. The league, said Mr. Mack, is circulating sample ballots showing how to split the ticket, and is extensively advertising in the local press advising the election of Mr. Taft and Mr. Chanler. None of the regular Democratic organization asserted Mr. Mack is behind this movement, whose promoters have carefully avoided their identity in the campaign.

TO RACE IN AIR

Muller and Wild Preparing for Big Balloon Contest.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 29.—Capt. A. F. Muller and Capt. Horace B. Wild, who are to sail the big balloons United States and America, in the race across the continent, which is being arranged in Los Angeles, are preparing to make their first flight Sunday, in this city.

Both the aeronauts took part in flights at St. Louis, Chicago, St. Paul and Columbus. They are enthusiastic over the prospects of the flight and believe they can make a world's record. Capt. Muller believes there is an upper current, which is sweeping down the coast, which will take the balloons into San Diego county, thence toward the Gulf of Mexico, and then up the Mississippi valley and northeastward.

Capt. Wild believes, however, that the balloons will cross the first range of mountains and then sweep up the Salt Lake basin and then northeastward into Canada.

CAMPAIGN OF DUPLICITY AND DECEIT BEING MADE IN BEHALF OF JACOBSON

Represented Here as Opposed to Tonnage Tax and in the Rest of the State as Its Advocate.

The Herald, in Supporting Governor Johnson, is Standing for THE PEOPLE as Against All Others.

Never in the history of Minnesota has there been such a campaign of duplicity and deceit as that which the Republican machine in this state is making in behalf of J. F. Jacobson and against Governor Johnson.

The word has gone forth to stop at nothing, and though the campaign has yet four more days of life, already every rule of decency and fair play has been broken in the endeavor to confuse the issue and to conceal Governor Johnson's magnificent record and Jacobson's conspicuous unworthiness.

In the iron country the attempt is being made to befool the voters into believing that in spite of his record and his present significant silence, Jacobson is a friend of St. Louis county. To this end, business men who never mix in partisan politics were misled into signing a declaration for Jacobson on the false pretense that the paper was merely a protest against the tax amendment and the tonnage tax. It was, in fact, a deliberate tissue of falsehood and deception, playing upon the fact that every citizen of the iron country opposes and fears the vicious tonnage tax measure which Jacobson introduced in the legislatures of 1897 and 1902 and supported as a private citizen in 1907.

The Herald, on the day following the publication of this remarkable document, exposed its falsity and warned the people against this attempt to fool them by the use of a few prominent names.

To the St. Paul Pioneer Press, the organ of special privilege in the Twin Cities—in other words, the News Tribune of St. Paul—fell the duty of playing the other end of the game. While the News Tribune was attempting to make the people of St. Louis

PERUNA A TONIC OF GREAT USEFULNESS.

HON. R. S. THARIN.

HON. R. S. THARIN.

Hon. R. S. Tharin, Attorney at Law and counsel for Anti-Trust League, writes from Pennsylvania Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C. as follows:

"Having used Peruna for catarrhal disorders, I am able to testify to its great remedial excellence and do not hesitate to give it my emphatic endorsement and earnest recommendation to all persons affected by that disorder. It is also a tonic of great usefulness."

Mr. T. Barnett, West Ayler, Ontario, Ont., writes: "Last winter I was ill with pneumonia after having a gripe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well. I also induced a young lady, who was all run down and confined to the house, to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring. I can recommend Peruna for all such who are ill and require a tonic."

Per-na Tablets.

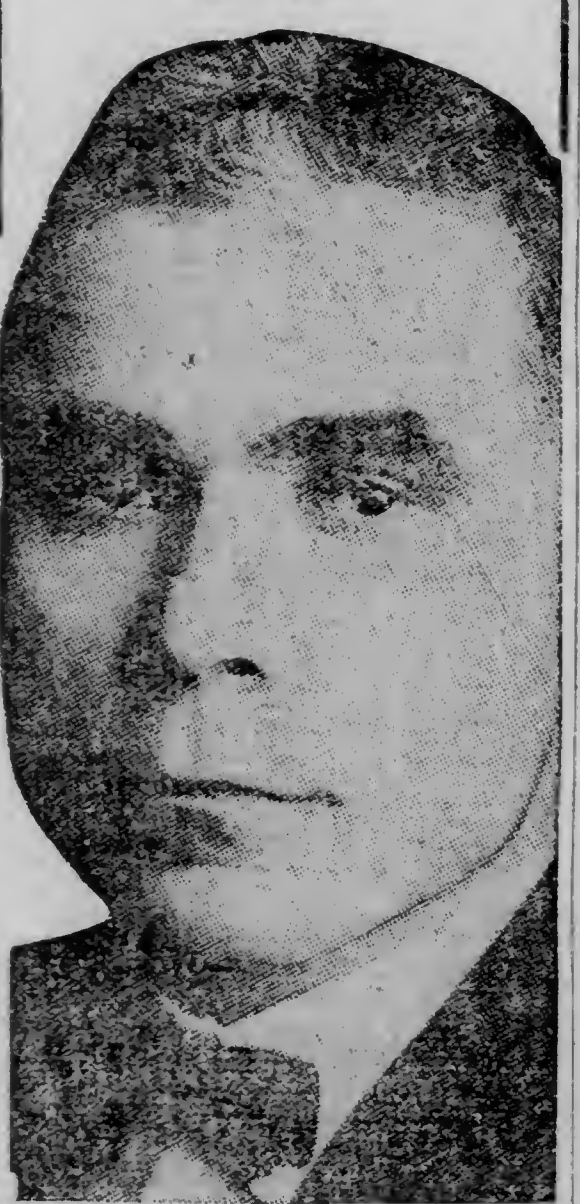

Some people prefer to take tablets rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

I'm Laying
'Em Out
Stiff

With my $15, $20 and $25 suit or overcoat to order, perfect fit, best trimmings, finest workmanship, the high priced tailors and all the ready-made clothing dealers are laid out stiff.

They can't get around. They stick in their craws. It's useless for them to try to compete because they can't do it and they know it. The only thing they can do is holler.

Now listen! I make the very finest suit or overcoat to order from Scotch goods for $15, from English goods $20 and from Special goods $25. (Special goods means that the goods are made especially for me and to my order.)

I guarantee absolute satisfaction. I use the very best linings. I guarantee perfect fit and style to the minute. Come and see my goods and my prices.

Yours truly,

Harry Mitchell

RUN TRAINS THIS FALL

Wisconsin Central May Use the Union Depot Temporarily.

Local Service May be Established Within Thirty Days.

Wisconsin Central trains may be running into this city within the next thirty days.

This information was received at the Duluth office of the road this morning. A definite statement of just what the road will do is expected within a few days.

The rails of the Wisconsin Central have been completed as far as Forty-second avenue, west of the bridge, and that is the gap between this point and the Grassy point bridge. When this gap is closed up the Wisconsin Central will have a route into Duluth.

The terminal tracks of the Northern Pacific will be filled until the completion of the Wisconsin Central terminal tracks. The line will come over the Grassy point bridge and will run into the union depot over the Northern Pacific tracks.

The officials of the Wisconsin Central are considering the proposition of running local trains from Superior to Chicago. If it is decided to operate these trains, Duluth will also receive the benefit of the service.

While it will not require thirty days to complete the laying of steel, the ballasting of the road will require fully that time, so it is not probable, should the officials decide to operate local service this fall, that it will be secured before thirty days.

James Shea Improving. James Shea of Eveleth, who has been seriously ill is improving according to his brother, Charles, who is at St. Luke's.

Injured at Ore Dock. John Rourke, a sailor, wrenched his shoulder badly Wednesday afternoon while helping to unload an ore boat at the docks, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

Insane People Committed. Two people were committed to the insane asylum at Fergus Falls and one to the detention hospital yesterday by Judge Middlecott in probate court. Mrs. Thea Benson proved to be insane, and was committed. She lost a son by death last August, and worry over it caused her to become demented.

James A. Wharton, Hugh J. McClellan and A. E. Polson addressed the Republican meeting at Duluth Heights last night. The meeting was held in the hall in the Freeman's building. The three speakers took up Johnson's record, national issues, and the attitude of the Republican party upon the tariff question.

Injured By Blast. Claiming that he was given two signals at the same time, one to throw a switch and the other to run from a blast, Joe Madich is suing the Drake & Strayton company for $2,000, for injuries sustained from the blast because he remained to throw the switch. The accident occurred at the Morris mine last November.

Sues For Commission. Alvin White yesterday brought suit in district court against the Jasper Copper company and Edward C. Jordan for $500, claimed to be due as commissions on sales of stock.

White says he had an agreement with the copper company and Jordan, under which he was to receive 25 per cent of the money from all shares of stock sold by him. He claims he sold $200,000 shares of stock at 25 cents a share and the $500 due has never been paid.

Hurt at Elevator. Frank Nord, an employee of the Peavey elevators was taken to St. Mary's hospital Wednesday suffering from a wrenched back which he sustained while working with the hoisting machine.

Protects Millinery. Patrolman Smollet this morning, about 3 o'clock, found one of J. M. Gidding & Co.'s show cases, in front of the store unlocked, and decided the surest way to keep the millinery on display there from being stolen would be to carry it to police headquarters.

He acted accordingly, and looked like a pedlar as he plodded down the street towards central station.

Bald on Brass Band. Leon E. Smith, 22 years old, wanted in Colorado for the theft of a clarinet, a trombone case and several mouthpieces of musical instruments, was arrested last night by Capt. Fleckett and Detective Terry. He will be taken back to Colorado.

Takes Nelson's Place. Chief of Police Troyer has decided to appoint Patrolman Wankwick as temporary jailer at headquarters when Nelson retires from the force Saturday night. Wankwick is suffering from an attack of rheumatism and is unable to patrol his beat. He will be employed at headquarters until his health is restored.

Fight at Dance. At the ballroom's dance at the armory Tuesday evening, a dispute arose between C. B. Leonard and Frank Venosa over the right of a friend of Leonard's to be admitted to the hall. The dispute waxed warm, and Leonard is claimed to have assaulted Venosa. Leonard was arrested this morning. In municipal court he pleaded not guilty.

Cedar Island Up Again. The Cedar Island Land cases have again bobbed up. Wednesday a document giving H. M. Stanford power of attorney to file an appeal bond was filed in the office of the clerk of the United States court.

Peterson's Body Unclaimed. Unless relatives appear to claim the body, the remains of Peter Peterson, which have been held at Flood & Horgan's morgue since Sunday, will be interred tomorrow at the expense of the county. Peterson died of typhoid fever last Sunday at St. Luke's hospital. He was last employed by John Runquist, railroad contractor.

A. C. Beceroff Dies. A. C. Beceroff of Buffalo, 44 years of age, died at St. Mary's hospital this morning. He was a sailor employed on the steamship Ojawa, and was recently suffering from a complication of diseases. He was married and had a sister living at Buffalo. Beceroff was a member of the God-freys lodge. The body is now at Flood & Horgan's undertaking rooms, awaiting shipment east.

A Small Fire. Fire which caught from a hot air furnace roused the family of David Spence, 431 North Forty-first avenue east, at 2 o'clock this morning. An alarm was turned in, and the department had the blaze extinguished before more than $25 damage was done.

SUPERIOR NEWS

CAMPAIGN IS WARM.

The campaign is growing hot in Superior and the Eleventh district of Wisconsin.

Joseph Konkell returned to Superior today after a congressional campaigning tour of the Eleventh district. He will speak tonight at a big Democratic rally at Maryland hall. In speaking of his trip through the district, Mr. Konkell says that he is satisfied that he will carry the district over Irving L. Lenroot, Republican candidate for congress, and that though he fears that Bryan will not carry the state, he is positive that he will receive twice as many votes as Parker did four years ago.

Tomorrow afternoon Senator La Follette will address a Republican rally.

at the Grand opera house. The meeting will be called at 1 o'clock.

JURY OUT 18 HOURS.

No verdict was returned by the jury in the $20,000 personal injury case of Helen Larson, 4 years old, against the Duluth-Superior Traction company. The jury had been out eighteen hours when they reported to the judge that they were unable to agree on a verdict. The girl was run over by one of the company's cars last June, receiving injuries, which cost her her left foot. The question of whether or not the company was negligent, was too much for the jury. They were excused from further deliberation, and the case will go over until the January term of court.

MAY BE DEPORTED.

Tasimer Gaboluski, a Pole, who has been adjudged and taken to the asylum at Mendota yesterday, may be deported to his native land. It is believed that the man was insane when he came to this country two years ago.

On Oct. 13 he was found in a half starved condition, crouching in a shack at the end of the Wisconsin Central railroad bridge over the Nemadji river. It is claimed that he had been in the old shanty for two days without food. He was taken to the county jail, where he was held until found insane.

CRUSHED UNDER WHEELS.

There is little chance that Anton C. Johnson will recover from the injuries sustained beneath a freight car yesterday near Rockmount. Johnson was the employ of the Superior Crushed Stone company, yet he is said not to have been acting in that capacity when the accident took place.

He is said to have been helping a train crew switch cars, when he fell beneath the wheels. His right arm was so badly mangled, that it has to be amputated at the elbow. His skull was fractured and his back and face badly bruised. He lies in a very critical condition.

DRANK POOR WHISKY.

It is believed by Coroner Dudley that the death of Oscar Feiberg, who died Tuesday in one of the Soo camps near Saunders, was brought about by drinking bad whisky.

The crew at the camp had been forced to lay off on account of the bad weather, and all that day there was

CAMPAIGN OF DUPLICITY AND DECEIT BEING MADE IN BEHALF OF JACOBSON

county believe that Jacobson is their friend and that he is opposed to the tonnage tax, it was up to the Pioneer Press to make the people of the rest of the state believe the opposite. The Herald presents herewith a photographic copy of a portion of the front page of yesterday morning's Pioneer Press, showing the manner in which it set about this attempt. It reproduced the headlines and parts of The Herald's article exposing the News Tribune's manifesto and showing that Jacobson's record is that of a tonnage tax advocate and that Governor Johnson's record is that of a friend of St. Louis county and an advocate of fair play to the iron country.

Armed with this ammunition, and accepting The Herald's statements as official and authentic, it proceeds to instruct the people of Southern Minnesota that if they want a tonnage tax they will have to vote for Jacobson, because "Governor Johnson has gone back on the tonnage tax reference in the Democratic platform"—a thing, by the way, that Governor Johnson had no more to do with than he had with his nomination.

The Daily Pioneer Press

SAINT PAUL, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1908.

From the Duluth Herald, Gov. Johnson's organ.

LET NOT VOTERS BE DECEIVED

Jacobson Is Father of Tonnage Tax on Iron Ore And Johnson Against It

Bold Attempt to Mislead the People of the Iron Counties by Tissue of Falsehood and Deceit.

Johnson Has Flatly Promised to Veto Tonnage Tax Bill or Any Measure Harmful to This Section.

From the Duluth Herald, Gov. Johnson's organ.

It (Gov. Johnson's statement at Duluth) is, in fact, far broader than a mere promise to veto a tonnage tax bill. It is a flat, emphatic and unequivocal promise to protect the taxpayers of the iron country against ANY KIND OF TAX MEASURE THAT THREATENS THEM WITH HARM, whether it is called a tonnage tax or by any other name that the ingenuity of Jacobson and his fellow-enemies of Northern Minnesota may devise. He said that if a measure is passed depriving this section of its full share of taxes, HE WILL VETO IT.

From the Duluth Herald, Gov. Johnson's organ.

When the falsehoods that make up the chain of argument are resolved to truths and the chain is made complete and honest, it leads to the unavoidable conclusion that THE WAY TO BEAT THE TONNAGE TAX IS TO BEAT JACOBSON, ITS FATHER, AND TO ELECT JOHNSON, ITS OPPONENT.

From the Duluth Herald, Gov. Johnson's organ.

As to his attitude during the fight against the tonnage tax two years ago, he gave such assistance as he could for the protection of the taxpayers of this county, at the very moment when J. F. Jacobson was lobbying in the legislature, of which he was no longer a member, for the very measure against which St. Louis county was fighting for its life.

Here, then, is the situation: In Duluth, the News Tribune and the Republican politicians are trying to mislead the people into voting for Jacobson, ignoring the fact that the people know nothing about Jacobson's views on taxation except that he stands for the tax amendment,—which means nothing but a tonnage tax,—that throughout his legislative career he was a plunderer of the iron country, and that five years after his legislative career had ceased, when St. Louis county was fighting for its life against the infamous Jefferson-Bjorge tonnage tax bill, Jacobson was on hand to give his advice to St. Louis county's enemies and his aid to the passage of this menacing measure.

In the rest of the state, Jacobson is "running" on his record. In St. Paul, the Pioneer Press is using The Herald's statements to prove to the advocates of the tonnage tax that Jacobson is for it and Johnson is against it.

The people of the iron country have vast interests at stake—interests greater than those of any of the wealthy and eminent men back of the News Tribune in its campaign of deceit and misrepresentation. These men are in a position to pass the burden on to those less fortunate if they succeed in getting Jacobson elected, and if he succeeds in carrying out his plans of plunder.

Right here it should be stated, as emphatically as it can be stated, that The Herald, in this contest, is not representing the big mine owners and the big drawers of iron ore royalties, but the people of Duluth and the other communities in the iron country.

There is reason enough, altogether aside from the tonnage tax issue, why these folks should be bitter against Governor Johnson. During his administration the assessments of the iron mines have been raised from $42,000,000 to $200,000,000.

What is the result?

The taxes of the mine owners have been increased, but THE TAXES OF EVERY CITIZEN OF DULUTH AND THE IRON COUNTRY HAVE BEEN REDUCED.

John A. Johnson has been governor of Minnesota for four years. The people of this section are intelligent. They read. They keep track of public affairs. They know whether Governor Johnson has been a friend to this section or whether he has been an enemy. They know, from his record and from his frank, manly and open statements to them during his campaign tour of this section, whether or not he is likely to be a friend or an enemy in the next two years.

They do not need to be told by the News Tribune, by Mr. Congdon, Mr. Willcuts, Mr. Cotton, Mr. Hartley or by anybody else, where the governor stands with them. They know, and no amount of partisan misrepresentation and deceit can change that knowledge.

What has happened to the average taxpayer of St. Louis county during the four years of Governor Johnson's administration? Let each taxpayer dig up his tax receipts and see for himself.

Naturally the increase of the valuation of the iron mines from $42,000,000 to $200,000,000 has stirred the ire of eminent mine owners. But what effect has it had upon the plain people, who have the votes and who must decide this election? Let us see.

The tax rate for county expenses, before the increase was made, was $3.22 for each per $1,000 valuation. THE RESULT OF THE INCREASE WAS THAT THE TAX RATE WAS CUT TO $1.82, NEARLY IN TWO; and that benefited every citizen of St. Louis county.

THE TOTAL RATE IN HIBBING WAS CUT FROM $17.88 PER $1,000 TO $10.30 PER $1,000. If Jacobson's 5-cent tonnage tax, for which these mine-owners are now praising him, had gone into effect the result would be vastly different. Suppose that law to be in effect and the mines closed down by hard times or strike. THE MINE OWNERS WOULD HAVE NO TAXES TO PAY, but the whole burden of public expense would fall upon the small home owner and store proprietor. The result of that would be that the tax rate of Hibbing, instead of being $10.30 per $1,000, as it was after Governor Johnson had the valuations increased, would have been $274 for $1,000, a rate that would confiscate the property in less than four years.

THE EVELETH RATE WAS CUT FROM $52.10 TO $46.40.

THE VIRGINIA RATE WAS CUT FROM $29.00 TO $15.50.

THE CHISHOLM RATE WAS CUT FROM $20.60 TO $14.10.

THE BUHL RATE WAS CUT FROM $21.30 TO $11.70.

The rate in school district No. 22, town of Missabe Mountain, was cut from $18.00 to $12.10.

The rate in Fayal was cut from $14.90 to $11.90.

And so on throughout the entire iron range country. This was done in Governor Johnson's administration.

It has made some of the big mine owners bitter; what should be its effect upon the small property owners who have benefited so much? It certainly should lead them to view with suspicion attacks made by interested parties upon the governor who has accomplished these reductions in taxation.

We hope we have made it quite plain that it is not alone the interests of the large mine owners that should be considered. Their holdings are large and important, and their industry is one that deserves every possible protection. But in this contest The Herald wishes clearly to be understood: as standing, as in the past, for the people of Duluth and the iron country, and not alone for the few who are amply able to care for themselves.

Let us return to the methods that are being used to deceive the people of St. Louis county.

In his speech at Virginia last night Joseph B. Cotton said: "Governor Johnson's plan is to have the constitution changed so that the state can get all of the tonnage tax, and thus the governor favors the wide open tax amendment." We quote the News Tribune's report.

In his speech at Virginia last night, Chester A. Congdon, a Republican candidate for the legislature, said, as reported by the News Tribune: "The object of the proposed (tax) amendment, which the Democratic platform, upon which Governor Johnson is a candidate for re-election, was to place the entire matter into the hands of the legislature and give that body the authority if desired to appropriate the whole tax for state purposes." This is the News Tribune's report verbatim, and while something has evidently been omitted, obviously the object of the statement is to show that because the Democratic platform declares for the tax amendment, Governor Johnson favors a tonnage tax to go entirely to the state.

What these two gentlemen are evidently trying to tell the people of the range is that because the Democratic state platform declares for the tax amendment, Governor Johnson is for the tonnage tax.

If Governor Johnson is to be charged by these men with being for the tonnage tax because the Democratic platform declares for the tax amendment, what of Jacobson? THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM DEMANDS THE ADOPTION OF THE TAX AMENDMENT, and in his speeches MR. JACOBSON IS ASKING THE PEOPLE EVERYWHERE TO VOTE FOR THE TAX AMENDMENT in order that there may be full taxation of all interests. THIS, FROM A MAN WHO HAS INTRODUCED TWO TONNAGE TAX BILLS AND HAS SUPPORTED A THIRD WITHIN TWO YEARS, IS SIGNIFICANT ENOUGH FOR ANYBODY. The tax amendment means a tonnage tax; we have the word of the Jacobson supporters in this county for that, and they are correct. Jacobson is advocating the tax amendment. HAS ANYBODY HEARD OF A MEETING AT WHICH GOVERNOR JOHNSON HAS URGED THE ADOPTION OF THIS VICIOUS AMENDMENT? Not one.

Let the voters not be deceived. They know Governor Johnson, and they know Jacobson. They know Governor Johnson's record, and they know Jacobson's. They have heard Governor Johnson declare that he will not permit the enactment of tax laws that will injure the people of St. Louis county. They know that Mr. Jacobson has not said a single word that promises any hope of fair play from him. They know what to expect from Johnson; they know what to expect from Jacobson.

Will St. Louis county vote for its friend, who has ever given it fair play and who promises to continue giving it fair play? Will it vote for Governor Johnson as a unit?

Or will it, at the dictation of the News Tribune, or Mr. Congdon, or Mr. Willcuts, or Mr. Hartley, vote for Jacobson, its traditional enemy, who even now refuses to give the faintest promise of fair play AND WHO DID NOT EVEN DARE FACE THE PEOPLE OF THE RANGE COMMUNITIES, WHOSE SECURITY AND PROSPERITY HE HAS SO OFTEN THREATENED?

JOKE OF CAMPAIGN ON REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

Mistake of Clerk Has Kept Them Busy Explaining.

Pamphlets "For Northern Minnesota Only" Went Astray.

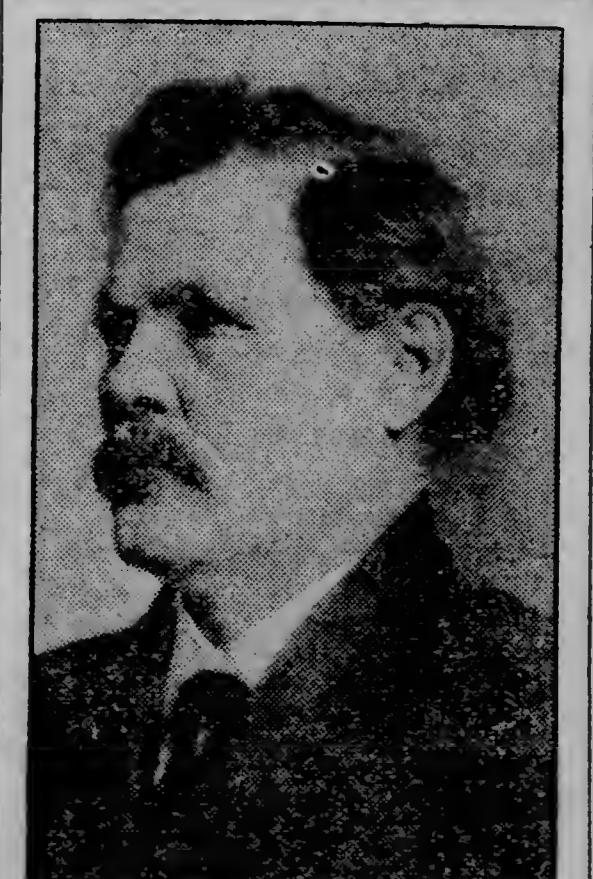

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The best joke of the present campaign, outside of the one on Victor Rosewater of the Omaha Bee, is on the Republican state central committee.

The Duluth News Tribune's notorious manifesto prepared and published Sunday morning and which attacked Governor Johnson's position on the tonnage tax was considered "hot stuff" for the Northern Minnesota Jacobson workers. Thousands of pamphlets were printed by the state central committee for distribution in the northern part of the state. By a mistake on the part of the clerks in the Republican headquarters at St. Paul, several thousand copies of these pamphlets were mailed to Republican workers in the southern part of the state where Jacobson was standing up on his tonnage record in the legislature. The pamphlets were quite widely circulated, until a roar began to be heard from the farmers and smaller towns in Southern Minnesota.

"What are you trying to hand us?" wired one Republican worker to headquarters. A hurried examination of the pamphlet was made, and the error was discovered. All the Southern Minnesota workers, who had been supplied with the pamphlets were notified by long distance telephone to get possession of them again, if possible, and destroy them or return them at once to the central committee, but some of them had fallen into the hands of the Jacobson supporters and the story leaked out. To cover up their traces the Republicans gave out the story that the pamphlets had been printed by the Democratic committee for the purpose of showing that Jacobson was a friend of the Steel corporation, but it was too late, and Jacobson supporters in Southern Minnesota are having many a quiet laugh at the expense of the Republican central committee which fell a victim of its own duplicity. While the pamphlets were thought to be "hot stuff" for the people of Northern Minnesota, they were like a red rag to a bull among the farmers, whose friend "Jake" proclaims himself to be.

WILL ANYBODY GIVE A REASON?

J. F. JACOBSON.

Will anybody give a single reason why this man should receive a single vote in St. Louis county? Mr. Jacobson himself won't. The News Tribune won't or can't. The signers of the News Tribune's petition won't or can't. Will anybody undertake the task? There are just four days intervening between now and election day. Is there a man in Northern Minnesota who can give one valid reason why "Jake" should get even one vote in this section of the state on his "record"?

JOHNSON HAS BIG LEAD In Hotel Polls at Grand Rapids and Cohasset.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A "straw vote" was taken in the Hotel Pokegama here yesterday and resulted: Johnson, 19; Jacobson, 8. The vote was taken to convince Senator D. M. Gunn that Johnson is the man.

Cohasset, Minn., Oct. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A "straw vote" was taken at Bass Brook hotel here yesterday. Out of 28 votes cast, Johnson received 21 and Jacobson 7. Taft and Johnson were the favorites in about the same proportion.

BIG ODDS ON GOVERNOR

Bookmaker Now Betting 15 to 10 on Johnson's Election.

St. Paul Man Here With $5,000 Looking for Wager.

"The Jacobson men have shot their little bolt, and they're on the run," said a Superior street merchant who is making a book upon the election, this morning.

"I have odds of 15 to 10 on Johnson posted on Superior street, and there doesn't seem to be a dollar of Jacobson money in sight even at those odds. I had to raise the odds to 15 to 10 because I couldn't get any bets at 12 to 10, and even at the new figure the bets are few and far between. The Jacobson men are free to predict big pluralities for Jacobson, but they are afraid to back up their predictions with their money."

"I am offering even money that Johnson will have 5,000 plurality, but that doesn't get any more bets than the other. The Jacobson men are so certain that Jake will carry the county that I am awfully hard to do. Yesterday the odds were 7 to 10 on Johnson in the county, and this was raised to 8 to 10. There doesn't seem to be any Jacobson money in sight. Like Lederer of St. Paul, one of the best known traveling men in Minnesota, and a prominent St. Paul Elk, arrived in Duluth this morning, and offered to water $5,000 at odds of 15 to 10 on the election of Governor Johnson. Mr. Lederer could find no takers. He visited a Superior street cigar store where an election book is posted, but found only Johnson money there, at the same odds that he was offering, 15 to 10."

GOVERNOR AT LUVERNE RALLY

Opera House Far Too Small to Hold the Crowd.

Luverne, Minn., Oct. 28.—Governor Johnson on Monday night addressed one of the largest audiences that has assembled at political meetings here this fall. The Opera house was far too small to accommodate those who sought admittance.

A special train from Pipestone brought a crowd of about 150, while Worthington, Rushmore, Adrian, Ellsworth and various towns in Jackson county contributed large delegations. The Beaver Creek, Worthington and Adrian bands accompanied the delegations from those places and furnished music for the occasion, while Pipestone contributed a male quartet.

Governor Johnson arrived at Luverne at 5 o'clock from Worthington, where he spoke in the afternoon, and was met at the station by the Beaver Creek band and a large crowd of friends, and escorted to the Opera house, where an impromptu reception was held until the hour of the meeting.

Fully an hour before the time for the meeting the crowd began to gather at the Opera house, where the meeting was held, and long before the time to call the meeting to order, every available foot of standing room was occupied, and many were unable to gain admittance.

Jay La Due presided at the meeting and introduced the governor. The governor's address was practically the same as that delivered at other places throughout the campaign. His speech here was the fifth made Monday, and his voice showed the effect of the strain, though he spoke without apparent effort and was easily heard in all parts of the house.

There were many women in the audience and there was no hoisting or prolonged applause, but the frequency and spontaneity of the applause indicated that he had the sympathy of a majority of the audience.

At the close of his address many in the audience pressed forward to shake the governor's hand. Governor Johnson was accompanied by P. H. Nelson of Hibbing, candidate for state treasurer.

STATE OF OHIO IS VERY CLOSE

Republicans Not at All Confident of Taft Winning Out.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Walter Wellman in a Columbus, Ohio, special to the Record-Herald, says: Ohio is very close, with a chance for either Taft or Bryan to get the verdict by a slender plurality, or it is for Bryan by a margin as large as to amount to what is like to call a landslide. If the state had voted three weeks ago (it could have) the vote would have been for Taft. During the last fortnight the Republicans have undoubtedly made some gains, and they now feel much more hopeful without being at all confident.

The Democrats, on the other hand, feel sure they are to win, both on the presidency and governorship. There are so many uncertain elements at work that as a matter of fact no one knows how the state is going. But the indications are as given above. The most probable outcome is a close election, something like that in 1892, when the Republicans saved all but one elector by a plurality of a thousand votes.

On the other hand, certain factors which cannot be accurately measured may run stronger and deeper than appears on the surface and throw the state to the Democrats by 30,000 or 40,000. The more optimistic Republicans, pinning their faith to Ohio's record in recent years, talk of 15,000 to 20,000 for Taft, and even more for Harris. But a critical, non-partisan examination of the conditions does not find the ground for any such forecast. The plain, blunt truth is that the Republicans are putting up a hard, driving fight against odds. They may win out by a shave, thanks to their energy, resources and organization. And that is the most hopeful view from their standpoint the facts warrant.

A Republican loss of three or perhaps of five congressmen is not improbable. Three weeks ago I thought Governor Harris was sure of re-election even if Taft were beaten. Now it looks as if he might go down, too. Harris will get the votes of many Democratic farmers who will scratch their Bryan tickets in his favor, but on account of the habit of the farmer of voting his ticket straight, it is doubtful if the Harris gains will be enough from this source to overcome the tremendous cutting he is going to get in the large cities. Harmon will run some thousands ahead of Bryan in Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo and all the large towns.

By GEORGE B. HOWLEY,
President of Minnesota State Federation of Labor.

There is a paradoxical situation in Minnesota politics such as never before confronted the voters of this state. The Steel trust in Northern Minnesota is marshalling its forces against Governor Johnson, because he dared to stand for the Square Deal as chief executive of this state. Officers of this big trust are opposed to Governor Johnson because he refused to be their subtle tool on two specific occasions. They are opposing him because he refused to turn over the state militia to help them break the strike of the miners last year. They also oppose him because through his instrumentality the assessed valuation of their properties in Northern Minnesota has been raised $150,000,000. They have been doing their work under cover until last week, and now they are out in the open, calling every ally to their assistance. On the other hand a handful of men who owe whatever prominence they possess to their positions in the labor movement, are attempting to besmirch the splendid record of our governor by charges which are not true.

Governor Johnson's position in the miners' strike entitles him to the vote of every working man in Minnesota. Mr. Jacobson's committee is circulating throughout the state a report that Governor Johnson permitted the Steel corporation to hire non-citizens to act as deputy sheriffs during the strike. The Republican committee is very careful to keep these circulars away from Duluth and vicinity. They have cunningly attempted to deceive the voters by reproducing certain editorials which appeared in labor papers during the strike.

However, they only reproduce such editorials as may be interpreted to embarrass the governor. The fact is, that the State Federation of Labor authorized and instructed President Howley and Secretary-Treasurer W. E. McEwen at the meeting of the federation council, held in St. Paul Sept. 1, 1907, to make a thorough investigation of the charge that non-citizens were being employed as guards in St. Louis county.

President Howley and Secretary-Treasurer McEwen waited upon the governor on or about Sept. 24, 1907, and they were shown letters and data which completely exonerated Governor Johnson from the charge of non-interference in this violation of the law. This is a matter of official record in the State Federation of Labor, and it is noticeable that the enemies of Governor Johnson do not quote labor papers after this report was made. Governor Johnson's fair and courageous attitude in the miners' strike was so well known to union labor, that the political committee of the Duluth labor organizations unanimously indorsed him in this campaign. If Governor Johnson's course during that strike was good enough for Duluth unions, it ought to satisfy the unions of the portions of the state who were further removed from the scene of that unpleasant conflict of one year ago.

The Jacobson supporters are mighty hard up for campaign material when they charge Governor Johnson and Frank Day with running non-union printing offices in the country towns in which their papers are published. Every union printer knows that the union label is not used outside of the cities in which local typographical unions are located.

If Governor Johnson's record as a state senator was bad, we would have known it long ago. The fact is, that he voted for every labor bill which came before the senate while he was a member, and he voted against every bill against which labor was opposed. Mr. Jacobson took the opposite ground on these measures. Johnson was a friend of labor in the senate, while Jacobson was an enemy of labor in the house.

As governor of Minnesota, he has twice recommended to the state legislature the enactment of a law strictly in accordance with the demands of organized labor, relative to the assumption of risk in employers' liability cases. Jacobson voted against a bill of this character when he was a member of the legislature.

Governor Johnson was the first and only governor of Minnesota to recommend the passage of a law providing for the initiative and referendum. These are the two paramount demands of organized labor in its political campaign in Minnesota.

In the enforcement of the labor laws of Minnesota, and particularly with reference to the child labor law, Governor Johnson's administration has taken stronger grounds than any preceding administration.

The workmen of Minnesota should rally to the standard of Governor Johnson and support him, because he has been their friend and the exponent of their principles. Remember the slogan of union labor: "Elect Our Friends and Defeat Our Enemies." Governor Johnson is a proven friend. Mr. Jacobson has opposed our most important demands.

A vote for Governor Johnson is a vote to encourage honesty and fearlessness in public office. Labor does not ask for the best of it from any public official. All it wants is a square deal. Governor Johnson has given labor the Square Deal.

PARROT WAS A WARD OF COURT

Bird Turned Over to Owner After Four Months' Litigation.

After having been a ward of the law for four months, a parrot, which had been the cause of a law suit, was yesterday returned to its mistress by decision of a jury.

Emma Grant, a negro, had loaned the bird to a neighbor for two years, while she was away. When she returned and went to get her pet, the neighbor asked for costs a week for boarding the bird while it had been in her possession. The negro would not pay the board, and took the matter to court, where the judge decided that the parrot be held in custody until the board was paid. Another case was started by the owner, and yesterday the jury set aside the board bill, and returned the parrot to its owner, assessing the defendant 6 cents for damages and the costs.

MUCH STOCK; NO ASSETS.

The $25,000,000 Greene Gold-Silver Company Declared Strapped.

New York, Oct. 28.—Out of the suit of Richard A. Arnold, broker, to recover $1,113 due him on commissions from the Greene Gold-Silver company, stockholders of the concern have had the unwelcome information forced upon them that the $25,000,000 concern, most of whose stock was marketed at par on the curb only a year ago, has behind it in the way of assets nothing but the lawyers for the judgment creditors have yet been able to discover, except some $48 worth of furniture, the greater part of which has already found its way to a second-hand dealer, and a $148 balance in the Importers & Traders' bank. In order definitely to determine what has become of the stock of the Mexican corporation, John H. Martin, assistant secretary and treasurer, will be examined in supplementary proceedings.

BOY HERO LOSES LIFE IN A FIRE

Seeks Mother in Flames;
Body Burned to a Crisp.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 28.—The 8-year-old son of Joseph Miller, mate on the steamer Kea, proved himself a hero in a fire that cost his life, fatally injured his mother and destroyed the Miller home. Mrs. Miller and her five children were in the house when a gasoline stove exploded, filling the rooms with flames. Seeing that the children were on their way to safety, Mrs. Miller attempted to rescue them from a kitchen window, but her dress caught and she hung suspended in the meaty little Manuel, missing his mother, re-entered the house and from room to room, searching for her. He finally entered the kitchen, which was blazing fiercely, and when help arrived his body was burned to a crisp. Mrs. Miller was badly burned.

HUTCHINSON, LAST OF FAMILY, DIES.
Lynn, Mass., Oct. 28.—John W. Hutchinson, last of the famous "Hutchinson family," whose temperance and abolition songs before the Civil war and during that conflict made their names known throughout the country, died at his home, High Rock, in this city today. He was 87.

The Hutchinson home was in Milford, N. H. The family included sixteen children, of whom twelve were boys. All had good voices and became popular when they began singing together in public. In the years before the Civil war they toured the country, and their greatest prominence was gained during the war, when, by special permit from the war department, they visited many of the Union camps, and sang to the soldiers.

Scores Who Knew Dunham Differ as to Identity.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 28.—William Hatfield, brought here from Sherman, Tex., as the suspected murderer of six persons, is a puzzle, after three days of investigation. During that time he has been viewed by scores who knew James C. Dunham more or less intimately, and it is generally believed that he is not Dunham.

While Hatfield is frank in many of his replies, the sheriff and district attorney believe he is anxious to evade some questions relating to his past life. Ambrose Sauer of 2307 West Second street, who claimed that his mother is living with an uncle, Thomas Hatfield, in Port Arthur, Tex., and steps to verify this statement were taken.

WOODMEN CLAIM IN FAILED BANK, LISTED.

Chariton, Iowa, Oct. 28.—The suit of the Modern Woodmen of America to establish its $350,000 deposit in the defunct First National bank of Chariton, as a preferred claim, has been dropped, following a conference of the attorneys representing the bank and the woodmen. The deposit was made in 1906, and the bank failed in 1907.

Receiver of the bank will pay the first dividend to depositors in another week or ten days. He has on hand approximately $250,000, which will pay about twenty-five per cent of the claims. It was expected that more will be realized from the various assets to make an additional fifteen per cent dividend later on, a total of forty per cent, or about $400,000 in all.

COCAINE SOLD TO CHILDREN

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—By the confession of Edward Lee, a 15-year-old cocaine vender, appalling conditions are suspected in certain of the public schools, and the police and board of education are making a stringent investigation.

Students of the Josephine Widener Memorial school also were sold the drug, it was declared.

"There are other schools, too," said Lee, "but I don't know which. Cocaine is sold to the kids during recess."

This selling at schools is new, and the boys are making lots of money on it."

As soon as Lee's confession was heard the board of education was notified, and detectives began the investigation. They disabled among the principals and teachers, who were greatly shocked. Admissions by some of the larger boys confirmed, however, many of Lee's allegations.

"We'll sell it to them in 10-cent lots, or 5-cent or a little bit. Sometimes we made as high as $1.50 a day."

Larkin has been in the drug business for six months as a nominal sentence, while the allegations are being investigated. Lee was sent to the house of detention for the same purpose.

Larkin was arrested. Quantities of cocaine were found in the stockings of both boys.

Takes Money From Flat While Owner is Marketing.

Sneak thieves are again busy, playing their trade in the West end, and Miss Lou Potter of the United States block is their latest victim.

Yesterday, when she had occasion to leave her apartments to go to the grocery store, she left $20 on the dressing table in her room, and when she returned the money was missing.

Some one had entered the flat in her absence and taken the money. As far as could be seen, little else in the house was disturbed.

Miss Potter was not gone a very long time, but it was time enough for the thief to enter the room, take the money and make his escape without being detected. Miss Potter is in the dark as to the identity of the thief, and no one else has as yet been able to throw any light on the subject.

Interesting Meetings.

"Very interesting meetings were held at Grand Rapids and Chicago, and at the Lake Superior conference held there."

One division of the Lake Superior conference met at Carlton and the other met at Grand Rapids, and also held a session at Bovey, on the Western Mesaba.

West End Shortcuts.

Queen Esther circle of Grace M. E. church will be entertained tomorrow evening by Miss Mabel Cumming, at her home on West Second street.

Abraham St. E. Connolly, president of the West end, but now in business at Ashland, is in the West end for a few days.

The young people of Central Baptist church will entertain at a Halloween social this evening, in the church parlors.

Some youngsters with a desire to rush the Halloween season, lugged some lumber from a garfield avenue yard yesterday and dumped it promiscuously in the street.

One of the yard gave chase and succeeded in capturing and administering a sound thrashing to one boy.

August Lippman left yesterday for Rochester, Minn., where he will consult the Doctors Mayo.

J. B. Dunphy has returned from Omaha, where he had business.

Miss Alice Nolan of West Third street will entertain at a Halloween party this evening.

Martin Wetterlund of Minneapolis is in the West end, visiting his parents.

Services will be held both morning and evening on Sunday, All Saints' day, in St. Luke's Episcopal church. They will be conducted by the rector, Rev. R. J. Mooney, and Rev. R. S. Reed, assistant rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The reception planned for this evening in honor of Rev. M. O. Stockland, the new pastor of Grace M. E. church, has been postponed until next Friday evening.

CHILD'S HAND BLOWN TO SHREDS

Holds Dynamite Cap While Brother Turns on Current.

A dynamite cap, left behind by careless workmen employed on a water and light board contract, yesterday afternoon exploded in the hand of the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mettner, residing on Fifteenth avenue east. The child's hand was blown to shreds, and nothing but a bleeding stump was left where it had been. The girl held the cap while her brother connected it with an electrical apparatus, causing the explosion. A few days ago he picked up the cap on the new gas and water main workings, between Fifty-first and Sixtieth avenues east. The explosive goes under the name of a fulminating cap, and is used in the laying of gas pipes. The boy had been playing with the wires, but did not realize the dangerous character of the material. As an experiment, he connected the wires with electric wires at his home, and before turning on the current told his little sister to take hold of the cap, to see what would happen. The explosion shook the house, and threw both children to the floor. Their mother rushed into the room and found her daughter with her right hand blown completely off, and otherwise bruised about the body. Picking the child up in her arms, Mrs. Mettner wrapped her in a shawl and ran to the residence of Dr. H. E. Webster, 19 Sixtieth avenue east. He bandaged up the wound. Unless complications set in, the girl will recover.

JOE SHEEHY IS SENT TO JAIL

After managing to keep out of the hands of the police, for nearly two years, Joe Sheehy, made notorious by his unjust attacks on the character and reputations of local city officials, was arrested yesterday on a bench warrant issued about the time he left Duluth, and took him in tow. Judge Windom directed that the man be made to serve out a ninety-day sentence which he formerly escaped serving by shaking the dust of Duluth from his heels.

The sentence was the result of Sheehy's conviction in municipal court on the charge of criminal libel on Thomas McKoon, former assistant city attorney. He was released on bail pending his appeal to the higher court. He made a show of appealing to the district court, but the papers were not filed within the prescribed legal limit. Then he appealed to the state supreme court, which dismissed his petition a year ago last April, because that body would not adjudicate causes that had not first been passed upon by the district court. When the decision of the supreme court was made known in Duluth, a bench warrant was issued for Joe, but he kept out of the city until yesterday. It was through his operation of an employment office in Duluth that Joe got in trouble with the police and city officials. The claim was made that he was rather careless in observing the city ordinances, hence the trouble.

KERN CUTS MEALS, IN CAPTURING INDIANA

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 30.—Two rousing meetings in this city brought the fourth day of John W. Kern's Indiana campaign to a whirlwind finish. An hour before he appeared here he addressed a big crowd of miners and laboring men at Brazil. The vice presidential nominee spoke during the day at Rockville, Mecca, Clinton and Sullivan. His itinerary provided only for a speaking tour, no time allowance having been made for meal hours. In consequence the candidate took but one meal and that from a lunch basket while whirling along over a dusty road in an auto between Rockville and Clinton.

Mr. Sheehy, in an attempt to work out his spite against Attorney McKoon, circulated large hand bills supposed to expose suspicious circumstances in connection with the city attorney's office. The matter was found to be a base libel, and was so declared in the municipal court trial. When taken before Judge Windom yesterday, Sheehy was ordered taken to the county jail to serve out his sentence. It is said he could not secure the services of a lawyer to take up his case, because there seems to be absolutely no defense at this late date.

MARINE NEWS

LIEN AGAINST LOUISIANA

Boat is Seized by Houghton Company to Satisfy Claim.

There has been filed against the Louisiana, by the Carroll Foundry company of Houghton, a lien for $258.15. The foundry people allege that the owners owe them this amount for repairs made on the boat.

The information, which has been filed with T. H. French, clerk of the federal court, explains that the boat was sunk in the Portage Lake canal during November of last year, and that she was blocking traffic.

They were employed to pump out the vessel and repair the damage. They claim that the vessel took them four and one half days, and that their bill was $375. They admit that $300 of the original bill has been paid, and they are now suing for $75.15 which, they say is due them for the expense of shipping a broken pump to Duluth.

STEAMBOAT MEN WILL PROTEST

Object to Rule Which Prevents Competition With Tramp Boats.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 30.—To protest against certain features of the interstate commerce law as applied to steamship lines in the ruling of July 9, 1908, is the purpose of a meeting of the American Association of Passenger Steamboat men called at Boston, Nov. 5. The complaint of the steamboat men comes largely from the fact that a few lake lines, particularly the White Star, D. & C. Co., & B. and Ashley & Duxton, of Detroit, and those on Lake Michigan are affected. Walter E. Campbell, A. A. Schantz and R. W. Parker, the latter gentleman a member of the executive board of the passenger association, will attend the meeting from Detroit.

It is with regard to the freight rate ruling that the vesselmen are chiefly objecting. By it all lines trading between two states are required to file freight and passenger tariffs which they are not allowed to change short of Philadelphia answered. In the case of all business of the line, interstate and otherwise, in the of any time so far as interstate hauls are concerned the lake men have no objection to offer. In the fall as business dwindles, however, many passenger boats become tramp freight steamers, engaging in short hauls. The ruling of the commission prevents their competing in the matter of rates with tramp steamers for this will business so long as they remain bound by their tariffs.

The justice complaint is coming from the small steamers on the Atlantic coast. Most of these boats do entirely a tramp business, sailing on special charters. By the interstate commerce ruling they are barred from competing with not only American vessels but with foreign tramp steamers between ports of a single state, but with foreign tramp steamers as well.

It is likely that the passenger men will also ask that they be represented at sittings of the special commission named to revise steamboat inspection rules this winter. Frank E. Kirby has been suggested as the man likely to be named by the passenger men if they succeed in gaining their point.

ITCHING ECZEMA FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

Suffered Torments from Birth — Boils Formed as Big as Walnuts — In Frightful Condition and Could Hardly Work — Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail — At Last

WHOLLY CURED IN 8 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man of fifty-five years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last my blood was so bad that I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery. I thought they would take the skin off my whole body, but I kept on scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. Mr. Nelson R. Burnett recommended the use of Cuticura Remedies, telling me he was confident they would benefit and, in time, cure me. I used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. I cordially recommend Cuticura Remedies to all who are afflicted the same as I was, believing that, if they will use them according to directions they will find them all they are represented to be. Any one doubting the truth of the above can write to Mr. Burnett, who will cheerfully vouch for my statements."

"Hale Bordwell, R. F. D. 3, Cedar Corners, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above testimonial. It is the truth. I know Mr. Bordwell and know the condition he was in. He never tires of praising the Cuticura Remedies."

"Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."

WINTER QUARTERS.

Many Big Boats to Lay Up Early Next Month.

Cleveland, Oct. 30.—The leading ore shippers are planning to clean up early next month and, according to the present line-up, some of them will not want any outside tonnage after the first week in November. This means that offerings of tonnage will be increased materially and that a large number of the big carriers will be forced to go into winter quarters much earlier than usual. The ore shippers probably will operate their ships all through November.

Many of the barges of the Pittsburgh Steamship company will be sent to the dock for the winter next week. None of the carriers will be sent out from this end of the route after Saturday. There is no money carrying grain at the rates that are offered, and many of the big ships will be taken out of the coast as soon as they get through with the ore contracts.

The freight market is in about the same condition it has been for a number of days, and there will not be much chartering done this week.

Vessel Movements.

Acid and Alkali In The Stomach

Digests The Food Naturally If In Right Proportion: If Not, Then Dyspepsia.

Acid and alkali make up the liquid known as gastric juice, which digests your food.

If through abuse of the stomach, or weakness of blood or through scores of other causes this gastric juice is not made up correctly of acid and alkali, your stomach cannot digest food.

Such a stomach then acts as a pit where the food lies, ferments, decays, is thrown off at last, either into the intestines or is vomited from the system.

If thrown into the intestines a large proportion of it is taken up and passed into the blood, for the intestines are covered on the inside surfaces with millions of little mouths which are placed there to suck up nourishment for the blood.

You may readily see that if instead of good rich nourishment, there is vile poisonous fermented bile and acid, these same little mouths suck some of it by necessity and pass it into the blood. The blood in turn throws it off and the system is immediately placed in an imperfect state.

The blood is weakened, the tissues lose strength, the skin becomes discolored and man in general suffers in a score of places.

Then again the blood furnishes gastric juice to the stomach, for when the gastric juice is not needed for digestive purposes it goes back to the blood. When the gastric juice is not needed for digestive purposes it goes back to the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into the stomach, balance the gastric juice, digest the food, are taken up by the blood, purifies it, and when the food comes again to the stomach a natural gastric juice of right proportion greets it and does its work perfectly.

After a time these little tablets cause a natural gastric juice to build up the gastric juice and there is no longer dyspepsia.

Every druggist carries them in stock, prices 50c every druggist and 40c every physician will attest their worth to the merit of these tablets.

Buy a box now and relieve your stomach at once, or send us your name and address today and we will send you immediately by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEW GRAFT A SUCCESS

Young Man Rents a Room and Ransacks the House.

Spent an Hour Collecting Valuables and Then Disappears.

A new swindle was worked in Duluth yesterday.

D. Eaton of 420 Third avenue east advertised a room in his residence for rent, and in response a well dressed, prosperous looking young chap, about 23, applied. He looked it over carefully giving special attention to every detail, ventilation, windows, figuring out the direction of the bed, and said that everything was lovely. He worked about an hour and then went out.

Neither the young man or the trunk appeared and upon investigation Mr. Eaton found that all the rooms on the second floor had been ransacked, the bureau drawers pulled out and $1 of the baby's money taken from a toy bank.

position on the tariff and the currency.

"I feel the more impelled to answer this question, because it cannot be said that the present administration has not in any way favored the special interest, in which my life has been devoted. That, however, does not excuse me from publishing my opinion and doing what I consider my duty as a citizen."

Charges were made today by Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, that the declaration of John D. Rockefeller for Taft for president is the result of a deal between the Republican national committee and the Standard Oil interests, whereby National Chairman Hittcock received large campaign contributions, and Mr. Rockefeller the promise, Mr. Mack said, that he would be elected.

"The Standard Oil company has landed where everybody knew it would land. Mr. Rockefeller held back for a bargain, and got what he wanted. His declaration for Taft is good for at least 100,000 votes in the doubtful states. I cannot speculate on the exact amount the Republican national committee received from Mr. Rockefeller, but one can rest assured that they both received their price. Hittcock getting the money and Rockefeller the promise, which suggest the question whether Taft is with Rockefeller or with Roosevelt."

"We now have an oil trust and the steel trust lined up side by side working for Mr. Taft's candidacy. Mr. Carnegie's statement yesterday, on his arrival from Europe, that the election of Mr. Bryan would be a national tragedy, is not only shocking, but should arouse the indignation of all fair-minded citizens of the country, regardless of party affiliation."

"I am a reliable informed, is not even a voter in this country. Mr. Carnegie has amassed a large fortune, as the result in part at least of the Republican policies, special privileges and a roll of tariff which condemn as so odious and oppressive as to demand immediate reform. Hence the election of Mr. Bryan is denounced by Mr. Carnegie as a tragedy."

Chairman Mack declared that he had learned that the Republican national committee had a campaign fund of $5,000,000, and that of this sum $2,000,000 was being used for purposes of coercion and bribery.

Chairman Mack said further that $200,000 of the campaign fund had been sent into Indiana, and that more than that sum had been sent into Ohio.

EGGS HAVE BIG BUJGE

Their Activities Are the Feature of the Produce Markets.

Some Brought Forth, Prematurely, From Cold Storage Rooms.

These bulwarks of the American dining table, eggs, have soared during the past week.

After resting on a steady basis ever since the first fall rise, they shot up 4 to 5 cents this week, placing them practically on a 25-cent basis.

To be exact, they are quoted on Michigan street at 25 to 28 cents a dozen, according to quality. Most of them are 25 cents, and 20 cents a dozen is what the consumers are paying for the hen fruit in every grocery store in town. Maybe some of them are paying more, but 20 cents is the average retail price.

The cold weather is largely responsible for the advance in eggs, although supplies have not been very plentiful at any time this fall. The autumn was a warm, pleasant one, and it did not bring forth any heavy receipts, with the result that the dealers divided into the cold storage warehouses for them earlier than is their wont.

At a time when all eggs in the market were supposed to be of the strictly fresh variety, there were many in circulation which had emerged from their chilly storage places.

As for prospects for a decline, there are none. With Thanksgiving looming up in the distance and a stretch of cold days reaching far into the future, it makes it a cinch that if eggs do any fluctuating at all, they will go higher.

On the other hand, while egg prices have been going up, poultry prices have been going down. Spring chickens are about as cheap as they have been on Michigan street at the present time, except apples. They are only 12 cents a pound, which is somewhat lower than last week's prices for the fowl.

Turkeys are also lower, selling now at 15 to 20 cents a pound. They are not expected to go over this level to any great extent, even when the Thanksgiving demand begins. There seems to be an overabundance of turkeys and turkeys and the local market will probably be well stocked along about the latter part of November.

Side-by-side with the slump in poultry prices comes another slant in pork prices. Pork has been declining steadily for weeks, ever since the harvest days were over. Hog receipts at Chicago, South St. Paul, Sioux City, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Joseph have been increasing right along. Pork hams are now selling at 12 to 14 cents a pound and lard is selling at 11 1/2 cents.

Butter remains steady, and unchanged from a week ago. Creamery prices are quoted at 22 to 25 cents and other grades are on a corresponding basis.

Concord grapes are 25 cents a basket, wholesale, marking another step in the advancing season, which must perform in the course of a few weeks eliminate the Concord variety of grape entirely from the market.

Lemons have gone down in price during the past few days, selling at 35 a box at present. Oranges and bananas are unchanged from last week.

Apples are steady and unchanged from a week ago.

Grape fruit is $6.75 per box.

Vegetables of all kinds show slight fluctuation from last week. Potatoes are 65 to 70 cents a bushel. Sweet potatoes are $1.25 per bushel.

Horse radish is in good demand now at $5.50 a barrel.

POSTMASTER STAND UP.

Two Mea "Stickup" Held Up.

Stillwater, Minn., Oct. 29.—S. E. Sanderson, a merchant and postmaster of the village of Lakeland, was held up by two men as he left his place of business Wednesday night and robbed of $150 in cash and various time checks of L. L. May & Co. and others, and pension vouchers, and a number of other valuables.

A gun was held at his head and he was told to make no resistance on penalty of death. The youths were returned to him when the highwayman found they could not be relied upon. The men were not masked and are described by Sanderson as heavy set and short. He had never seen them before. They are supposed to have come from Hudson, across the river from Lakeland.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

TO REPAIR
SKI SLIDEDuluth Will Have Longest Artificial Hill in Country.Ski Club Directors Will Not Meet Until After Election.

When the bus, hurrah and hubbub of election is over and not until then, will the officers of the Duluth Ski Club talk of their national sport and the plans for keeping it alive and flourishing in Duluth. At present, they are in the midst of the busy whirl of politics, and ski riding is much farther in the distance than is the winter, in which it thrives.

A question here and there, forced into the serious political discussion like comedy relief is thrown into the modern drama, drags out very little information on the ski club. Political contests are more engrossing than any other, and the ski club is in the midst of the busy whirl of politics, and ski riding is much farther in the distance than is the winter, in which it thrives.

Just incidentally, the ski club is not to be demolished by any human force that may be brought to bear. It will be bigger and better, more progressive and more popular than ever before. With the national tournament as the brilliant feature, last year saw a great season for the Scandinavian sport in Duluth, but the season of 1908-09 will give even that season a run for the place.

The officers of the ski club and those who stuck by them in the turbulent times of last spring, are not worrying about the future. They claim the dissenting faction will make no more impression than a paste diamond on a pane of glass. They intend to go right ahead with their preparations for the season. They have the numbers, the money, the land and the slide, and they don't need very much more to keep the sport alive.

On account of the dissensions in the ranks, the election which was to have been held last March, was postponed until this fall and will be held shortly after election. The eighteen directors of the club, who are the incorporators, will organize and open the slide. Then plans will be laid for the season and preparations made.

The repairing of the slide, which was damaged by a strong wind last spring, will be taken up immediately after the club gets together for the season. About $200 or $300 will be necessary for the work, and after the season, which about $500 was raised in the past time of last year, no trouble is expected in getting that small sum.

The jump will be raised, the scaffold strengthened and Duluth will continue to hold the distinction of having the longest and highest artificial ski slide in the world.

Two of these big tournaments will be held during the coming season, as last. The national tournament at Eau Claire, will draw a large number of riders of national reputation, and the Duluth club will very likely hold a tournament at some time near that of the national tournament, so that the big men of the sport will be attracted here. That will be the big tournament of the year, but, in addition, several other tournaments will be held for the local riders and those in the towns near Duluth.

Advices received by local ski enthusiasts from Eau Claire are to the effect that Eau Claire is to have a steel scaffold. It is now in course of erection and will be ready to continue the luth has aspirations in the same direction, but they will not materialize this year. Duluth is the natural home of the sport in the United States and nothing is too good for the local club, but they will wait another year before attempting anything in the way of scaffolds and such.

FOOTBALL IN MICHIGAN.
Semi-Finals for Northern Championship to be Played Oct. Saturday.

Ishteping, Mich., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald).—The semi-final games for the interscholastic football championship of Upper Michigan are expected to take place next Saturday.

Four teams are still in the race—Nogans, which defeated Ishpeming last Saturday; Houghton, which won from Ironwood; Escanaba, which defeated Gladstone, and Norway, which vanquished Iron Mountain. These four teams are booked to try conclusions the coming Saturday.—Nogans against Houghton and Escanaba against Norway. It is expected that the winners of the two matches will meet the following Saturday to determine which team shall contest with the Southern Michigan champions next Arbor on Thanksgiving day for the championship of the state.

MARSHALL FIELD
DUE TO BE FAST

Rain Has Not Interfered; Eckersall is Directing the Scrubs.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Marshall field will be in excellent condition for the Minnesota-Chicago football game, unless rain falls here before Saturday afternoon. Rain has fallen intermittently in Chicago for a week, but not as heavily as in Minneapolis and the turf on the Marshall field gridiron has scarcely been injured. Even the practice gridiron, where Stagg worked his men when saying the regular field against injury, has not been hurt and the Maroons have been practicing on a firm field since their game with Illinois, while the Gophers were forced to play on a soggy gridiron or in the livestock building at the fair grounds.

The weather cleared in Chicago yesterday morning and a careful inspection of the gridiron yesterday showed that it is firm and will afford opportunity for fast play Saturday.

Eckersall himself did a few stunts on Marshall field yesterday afternoon and made the few witnesses think the old star had got back into the game with all his old-time form. Donating a suit the former Maroon captain played quarterback on the scrub eleven and gave the varsity the stiffest hour of practice seen on the field this year.

Although it was not generally known outside the field, those who saw the practice agreed that the second team had all the better of the argument. The first team was kept on the defensive the entire practice period. Eckersall urged on his team with relentless energy and sent the backs hurrying through the Chicago line for big gains almost at will.

Chicago could not hold consistently and time and again the second team backs crashed through the line or off the tackle for fifty or one hundred yards. Eckersall distinguished himself in carrying the ball and gaining good ground. The result of the practice will be that the Maroons will be given renewed defensive coaching today.

Says Chicago Line Cannot Withstand Gophers' Onslaughts.

(By George Capron.)
The eyes of the football world are centered on the great battle between the Gophers and the Maroons at Chicago. Probably no game of the past few years is as full of possibilities and probably none has caused the surprises that may take place on Marshall field.

Hope, or the picking of the winner, is an absurdity, for either team may spring an unexpected turn and upset the most analytical guesses.

Of course Chicago will have the advantage over Minnesota in regard to the open style game. Minnesota has no center and will have to depend on the forward pass with wonderful accuracy. This fact may be a great factor in deciding the final result. The Chicago stars showed great adeptness and probably none has caused the surprises that may take place on Marshall field.

even greater ability in handling the ball in long trick passes.

Gopher Line Strong.
Minnesota must rely on a team, not composed of any brilliant stars, but a machine of good, hard workers, pulling together every minute of the time. Minnesota's line, which appears stronger than Chicago's, can break through and spoil Chicago's passes and also stop Steffen in his dodging and runs, then the Gophers will have a good chance of beating the Maroons.

Chicago's line will not be able to stand the terrible onslaughts that Minnesota can give it and Dr. Williams' men are sure to score.

As for the ends, Minnesota and Chicago have an even break. Page is undoubtedly better than Rademacher in this position and Pettibone, although playing his first year with the varsity, appears to me more effective on defense than the veteran Schommers.

On the whole, Chicago has a much better backfield than Minnesota. Dr. Williams has no man that can compare with Hiddings or Steffen, consider Plankers a better fullback than Worthine or Schott, and I look to see him a good ground gainer against the Maroons.

Idlings to be Feared.
As for the halfbacks, Chicago has Hiddings, a wonderful defensive player, and in short, the halfbacks of the two teams will be as worrisome as the much-heralded Steffen. Minnesota has Hubbard and McGovern, two reliable players, although they can not be counted on for too much for the Gophers to play a good, consistent game.

At quarter the Gophers have Atkinson, who is the star of the defensive play, or I ever laid eyes on.

Minnesota should play this youngster as a defensive halfback. For a man of his weight, he is simply a marvel—not a sensational player, but his tackling and ability to stop plays, the most reliable of the defensive eleven.

Steffens is undoubtedly the brightest particular star of the Maroons and if Minnesota can stop this man it should bring them victory.

The deciding factor in the game will be his kicking alone. "Wally" will be better than any of the Gophers in this respect. His punts may result in long gains, while at any moment he may decide the issue with a field goal.

KELLY IS BACK WITH MAROONS

Big Tackle Asks Forgiveness and Will Play Against Gophers.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Tom Kelly, Maroon football star, who deserted the squad on Marshall field yesterday, came out of a difference of opinion with Coach Stagg, sought forgiveness from the Maroon coach yesterday, obtained it, reported for practice and will be sent in the game with Minnesota next Saturday, probably playing right guard.

This means that the right side of Chicago's line will be strong against the Gophers. Kelly will be used at tackle, and Page at end, the Gophers will prefer to have Kelly at tackle, where Kelly has been playing, while the Maroon's line will be shifted to guard, the position Stagg sent him to Monday and over which Kelly took umbrage.

The Maroon squad was sent through a strenuous practice stunt against the freshman team. They were given the ball on the varsity 15-yard line after each kick and with this help, the regulars falling to hold on the one and two-yard lines. The defense is acknowledged by Coach Stagg the one weak point on the team and only a few remains in which this department can be braced up.

The new plays which Stagg has prepared especially for the benefit of the Gophers were tried out in today's practice, and the coach laid little to complain of in their action. The forward pass also was successfully used in the practice.

Preparations are being made for a record-breaking crowd at Saturday's game. The advance sale of tickets has been a tonk and they keep me strong and well." 50c at all drug stores.

Whitehead, Local Fighter,

Eleven Rounds.

Hubbing, Oct. 30.—Walter Whitehead of Duluth delivered the goods here last night in proper shape, when he defeated "Chicago" Jack Johnson in eleven rounds.

Up to the ninth frame Johnson had the better of it, but Whitehead continued to grow stronger. Johnson was put out for nine seconds in the beginning of the eleventh round, by a left swing to the jaw. When he came up he was groggy, and the finishing blow was quickly put on by the Duluth fighter.

The contest was the best ever pulled off on the range, and people from all over the iron country were present.

The bout was scheduled to go fifteen rounds.

Week's Work for St.

Are Out of the Lineup.

The Duluth team is in prime condition for the game with St. Paul Saturday, and as the weather conditions promise to be favorable, one of the largest crowds of the season will turn out to see, with the exception of the Minneapolis contest, the biggest local game of the season.

The Duluth boys have been practicing during the early part of the week the Duluth Curling rink. Coach Colton is taking to chances on dropping that which he has already won, and he has kept his team at all week, pounding them just as hard as though they still had the critical contest in their shape.

The boys came out of the Saturday practice in the best of shape, and they are ready to do his best against St. Paul. The Duluth City boys will arrive in the city tonight and take up their quarters at the McKay hotel, where they will remain during their stay in Duluth.

Duluth is anxious to defeat this school, as never in the history of football at the Central has the trick been earned. There have been some close scores, a number of tie games, but no decisive victory for the Central boys. Last year the two teams played in St. Paul and the result was 6 to 6.

The Central boys have been playing at right halfback, as that player has an absence on his hand, which will keep him out of the game. Helmer has been ill all the week, and it is doubtful whether he will be able to play. Larowe is a good man at center, and it is likely that he will play.

The taking out of these two players weakens the team to some extent, but the two men mentioned have taken part in a number of games this year, and have always shown up well.

BADGERS LOOK TO

Wisconsin Players and Rooters Fear Minnesota and Not Chicago.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30.—While Wisconsin seems a worthy foe Saturday in Little Marquette, the Badger state team is not looking forward to the Minnesota contest here centers in the Minnesota-Chicago game at Marshall field, and a good-sized delegation from Madison will witness this contest.

Locally the Gophers are not only touted to put up a grand struggle, but many pick them to win over Chicago.

St. Paul is used here in favor of Minnesota. "Jocks" are reasonable. The Gopher line is too big, too fast and too strong for the Badgers to handle. The Badgers declare that these big built backs tried out in today's practice, and before they get under way, it is a foregone conclusion that the Maroons will gain against Chicago a few minutes after the contest begins.

The Gophers in the backfield are regarded as light, but exceedingly shifty. With a great line in the backfield and a shifty eleven mastery the new game, the Badgers are expected to win it. It is Williams and his men.

St. Paul is concerned, the coaches and student body figures that if the Badgers defeat Minnesota, the Chicago side will come alive. The Badgers are making great progress and the team is rapidly rounding out. Finished form Krohn, Moll, the wonderful little quarterback, and the rest of the team are expected to be in the best of shape.

Heaven's team in a most finished way and they here has great confidence in him. He is Wisconsin's star and he is expected to throw the forward passes prominently to prove the best in the West. He throws the ball with accuracy and that is the secret of success in this department of the game.

GOPHERS FINISH
HARD PRACTICE

Dr. Williams Puts Team Through Hard Battle With Scrubs.

Minneapolis, Oct. 30.—With one of the toughest scrimmage practices of the year, Dr. Williams yesterday brought to a close the hard work of the Gopher gridiron warriors before the Chicago game, and nothing but light signal work will be given the players until the opening of the season's first big battle tomorrow afternoon. Secret practice was put on at Northrop field yesterday and only a few of the old-time football players were allowed on the field. "Fudge" Heffelfinger, the old Yale guard, was out with his nightingale clothes on, and Sig Harris' team was kept busy trying to stop the attack of the regulars. "Fudge" would jump from one team to the other, pointing out weak places and assisting in the patching up of the second team, and as a whole Dr. Williams was afforded a great deal of assistance.

The Gopher regulars and subs were put through a signal practice under the glare of the electric lights after the scrimmage work was called off, and the entire group was finally dismissed after receiving a few pointers on fighting with a never-quit spirit. Dr. Williams is not prepared to announce his lineup for the Chicago game and will probably not do so until a few minutes before play begins.

The players are all in good condition, despite the reports sent out to the contrary by a local fellow for a Chicago publication, and when the Minnesota team lines up against the Maroons at Marshall field Saturday afternoon, the Gophers will be ready to do their best.

Macalester, on the other hand, is determined that Hamline shall not have an easy time getting its scalp. Macalester and Hamline have always been bitter rivals, both in football and basketball, and the coming contest will be a repetition of the old spirit.

Coach Burgen's team ought to have a decided advantage over Plummer's aggregation, as the Macalester players have the advantage of weight and experience, and have shown their mettle by cleaning up Parker, North Dakota, and St. John's.

TAFT IS BETTER MAN FOR PRESIDENT, SAYS CORTELYOU

Treasury Secretary Says Big Issue Is "Which Candidate?"—Addresses Republican Meeting in New York.

New York, Oct. 30.—Addressing a Republican meeting in Murray Hill Lyceum last night, Treasury Secretary Cortelyou said in part:

"The one overshadowing issue at this time is, which of two candidates, standing as each does as the representative of a great party, will the better carry forward the work of government, especially that having to do with the regulation of great corporate enterprises, which will be the builder on sure foundations, which a constructive force, which more likely to rally around him the elements that will make his administration a success, whether it be in dealing with labor or capital, with white men or black men, with rich or poor, with high or low? Granting sincerity of purpose and worthiness of motive to each, is not a candidate whose life has been given to solving great problems, and to large administrative accomplishment, more likely to deal forcefully and successfully with the manifold questions of government than one who, however lofty his aim, however attractive his personality has given no evidence of either capacity or training for such work?"

Judge Taft comes before the American people with a distinguished career of achievement.

"The candidate of the chief opposition party has also something of a record. During his four years in congress (his sole public employment of consequence), Mr. Bryan antagonized the system, which has been the controlling policy of the government from almost the beginning of discriminating duties in favor of American productions. During his congressional career, he also opposed the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act of 1890, to which repeal his party was committed, while he also at all times advocated the free coinage of silver."

Astoria, S. D., Oct. 30.—An early morning fire destroyed six business buildings at Tolstoy, including a general store, a clothing store, a hotel, barber shop, pool room and the post-office. TWO PERISH IN CELLULOSE FIRE

Are Overcome by Fumes—Third Man May Die.

New York, Oct. 30.—Hemmed in by flames and unable to escape from the basement of a business house in Duane street, Henry Jones and David Mahoney were burned to death and William Sittig was so seriously burned about the face and hands that he will probably die.

The men were employed by Stillman & Engel, manufacturers of celluloid novelties, and they were at work when a barrel of celluloid caught fire.

The poisonous fumes soon overcame Jones and Mahoney. Sittig managed to fight his way through the flames to the street, where he fainted. Frank Stillman, a member of the firm, and four other employees, escaped from the building by the fire escape.

MINER HAS TRAGIC END.

Struck by Passing Ship in Osceola Mine.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Flaskovich, a trapper, was seen early Wednesday morning, standing by the side of the skip road north at the thirty-eighth level of No. 5 shaft of the Osceola mine, and about fifteen minutes later was picked up dead in the skip way, three levels below, or close to the forty-first level.

No one saw how he met his death, but the supposition is that he must have been struck by a passing skip, and either knocked or dragged to the forty-first level, where his body was found. His body was not yet recovered, showing that the skip struck him there.

MANY HOMESTEADERS.

Country East of Big Red Lake Settling Up Fast.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the country north and east of the large Red Lakes is being rapidly settled is shown by the fact that during the past season about 100 homesteaders have taken up land in that territory.

While most of the timbered lands are taken, there still remain a few good homesteads that are partly covered with woods and which would make good farms with but little trouble in clearing.

Brookston, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the bond election Tuesday, twenty-seven votes were cast, all being in favor of the school district, issuing bonds in the sum of $100,000 for the erection and maintenance of a school house in this village.

WRECKS BARBERSHOP WHEN BOIL IS OUT.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the story told in police court, Carey entered a barber shop early in the evening, settled himself in the barber's chair and ordered a shave. Everything went well until, by accident, the barber cut into a boil on the back of Carey's neck. Carey declared the cutting intentional.

Later Carey returned to the barber shop and accused the proprietor of cutting him on the neck. Carey admitted that a few drinks had served to make him belligerent, but he did not take the drinks he would not have taken the barber shop windows. He paid a fine of $5 imposed.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Roberts-Kingston Contracting company are shipping steam shovels and other mining material to the south end of town, near the school house. Work will be started at once, as iron ore has been found in abundance by the drills that were formerly employed on the same ground. Several of the residence houses and the school house will be moved by the company.

merit. Besides, C. A. Johnson, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, is the political creation of Alex. McKenzie, Jim Kennedy and the local boss; this cannot be correctly denied. Two years ago the people voted to turn the bosses down; they will not vote now to restore them. Oh! no, the people of North Dakota are too intelligent to commit such a blunder.

When asked why there is likely to be such a slump to Bryan, Mr. Carlson said: "Because the people are determined to rule. They are determined to be free. The corporations can no longer coerce and intimidate them. They recognize that Mr. Bryan is making an honest, fair and clean campaign to rid the common people of the barons of special privileges, that have been sapping their subsistence. The farmer has paid tribute to the trusts long enough. He wants to buy his machinery and the necessities of life from the foreign countries. Instead of paying a tribute to trusts, amounting to practically 25 per cent on the cost, after paying the freight. He wants to save the 67 cents per ton duty on coal that goes into the pockets of the trusts. He wants to save from $2 to $3.50 per thousand on lumber that goes into the pockets of the lumber barons.

He desires that taxes shall be paid in proportion to the benefits derived from a state government, and to that end he favors an income tax to help support the government. He wants to have a voice in the election of United States senators. He wants his deposits in banks guaranteed.

"These are some of the things that entitle Mr. Bryan to the large vote he will receive in North Dakota."

CHINA MUTE, SHIPS VISIT

The ships entered the harbor in single line, the Louisiana, flagship of Rear Admiral William H. Emory, commanding, leading and after forming double line, dropped their anchors at 10 o'clock.

The Chinese squadron, the Hsiao, fired the customary salute, which were replied to by the American ships.

Immediately the ships came to anchor. Capt. Patton of the supply ship Cuigoa, which had proceeded the squadron, boarded Admiral Emory's flag, closely followed by the harbor master. The Chinese squadron, who boarded the flagship at 10 o'clock left with Admiral Emory, the cards of Prince Luang and Liang Tun Yen, vice president of the foreign affairs of the government, sent by the government.

The only foreign naval vessel in the harbor was the German cruiser Niobe, the only foreign naval vessel in the harbor was the German cruiser Niobe, the only foreign naval vessel in the harbor was the German cruiser Niobe.

The football and baseball teams of the ships which are to play here the final games for the championship of the fleet, for which beautiful and valuable trophies have been prepared by the Chinese government, are on shore practicing for the games. At 2 o'clock this afternoon, Admiral Emory will come ashore for the purpose of calling on Prince Luang and Liang Tun Yen, the imperial commissioners and other officials.

American patrols have been landed and are stationed on the beach and along the roads. No officers or men will be allowed to enter the native city of Amoy.

Various Chinese officials, including viceroys, provincial governors, and generals of the army, as well as a number of schools throughout the country have telegraphed messages of greeting to the men and officers of the American fleet at Amoy.

"BRYAN," SAYS WATTERSON.
Can't See Where Taft Has Any Chance to Win Election.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 30.—Henry Waterson, in the Courier-Journal, in an editorial headed "The Outlook," says: "The Courier Journal can see nothing in the outlook but the election of Bryan and the defeat of Taft. Its basic faith rests upon its undiminished belief in the virtue and intelligence of the people and the destiny of the republic. If the Republicans can win an election by means which they take no pains to conceal, but could not conceal if they would, then the great body of the people have lost their ability to their tional system under the debauchment of the mighty dollar."

HIS WORK WONDERFUL

Capt. Casey's Interesting Test of the New Telescopic Sight.

Idea of Indoor Rifle Contests for Schoolboys is Spreading.

Washington, Oct. 30.—An interesting test of the new telescopic sight intended for use in the army was recently made by Capt. K. V. Casey on the District of Columbia rifle range, under the auspices of the military publication, "Arms and the Man." Capt. Casey is generally considered the best long distance shot in the country and his work with the telescopic sight is pronounced wonderful. He used a model of 1902 rifle, and shot at 1700 yards, or just one mile, firing on a regulation C target at the 1000 yards butts. Both the range and the telescopic sight were unfamiliar to Capt. Casey and the ground on which he lay was unsuitable to firing and approximately rough service conditions. He got the range at the first shot and stayed on the target throughout a string of twenty shots with the wind about twenty-two miles an hour. In the course of a long and careful report Capt. Casey says the sight as now placed on the gun is in a position that makes it practically useless from military standpoint, so he moved it forward two and one half inches during the test. He advances a number of other criticisms of a technical character, but says "It clearly demonstrated its practical value as a service sight, not only for the sharpshooter, but even for the general run of men in line of battle. He also says: 'It certainly will enable a man to be more certain of his hold and prevent errors of improper sighting. With the regulation service sight it was impossible, on account of intervening leaves and undergrowth, to see the target over the sights, but with the telescopic sight the target could be seen sufficiently well to sight on, thus showing the advantages of the telescopic sight in cover." Capt. Casey is the present holder of the Wimbledon and Leech cups, the most famous trophies in the country for long-distance shooting with the military rifle.

The idea of indoor rifle contests for school boys which resulted in the annual contests in New York and Washington last year, is spreading and Boston will have one during the coming winter. Similar contests will be held in Baltimore and St. Louis. The regular military model .22 rifle are used and after training with these boys go on the outdoor range and make excellent scores. The National Capital Rifle and Revolver club of this city, which handles the school-boy shoot, expects to have an outdoor contest next spring for the schoolboys on either its own or the National Guard range.

Although the Krag has been relegated to the rear by the new Springfield, the old gun is still a favorite with many marksmen who claim that it is superior to the new arm. It was used in a number of matches during the summer and more than one prize was won by the Krag against the New Springfield. An interesting suggestion has been advanced that a match be arranged between Maj. C. B. Winter of Ohio, a noted shot and a staunch advocate of the Krag and Capt. K. V. Casey, an equally celebrated shot and an advocate of the new gun. Such a match would excite the greatest interest in the rifle world. In the annual report to the war department, Brig. Gen. Frederick D. Grant, commanding the department of the East makes some interesting recommendations concerning rifle practice. He recommends the use of moving targets, single figures and groups. In all army small-arm work, in place of stationary targets, as in war almost all targets would be moving. He notes that the nearest government ranges to the troops stationed at Washington, New York and Boston, are 474, 520 and 108 miles distant, respectively, so urges the acquisition of suitable ranges near all three cities. He suggests that if a school of marksmanship be established in the East similar to the one at Monterey, Cal., it should be located at Fort Ethan Allen.

GOVERNMENT RESUMES COAL-RAILROAD SUIT.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The hearing in the suit instituted by the government under the Sherman anti-trust law against anthracite coal-carrying railroads and mining companies, charging collusion among them in restraint of trade, was resumed today before Examiner Gilbert. Joseph H. S. Harris, ex-president of the Philadelphia & Reading, told of the manner in which the suit was stopped in Philadelphia by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company in 1886 during the time he was president of that company.

GROCERYMAN OPPEL OF DULUTH, IN OIL HEARING

New York, Oct. 30.—The admission that the Standard Oil company benefited from a preferential freight rate, lower than that quoted to any other shipper, was drawn from a witness at the hearing in the government's suits to dissolve the company. George B. Ferguson, a clerk in the freight department of the Central Vermont railroad, gave the testimony before the grand jury. He testified that the Standard Oil company had been given a special rate of 33 cents a car load, while in the other case the rate quoted was 35 cents. The witness admitted that the 33 cent rate was the one under which the Central Vermont railroad had been operating since April, he declared, the price had been 10 cents a gallon. In May this had been reduced to 9 cents. In explaining the reduction, Mr. Ferguson related that the Standard's competitors had been giving five gallons free with every purchase of fifty gallons, and allowing rebates as well, and that the Standard had to cut the price in order to compete. He said that as far as he knew, the rate applied only to the Standard. The extent of the preference was not stated.

Wives and Mothers

Save the Loved Ones from Drink Evil by Using Orlin—Cure Effectual or Money Refunded—Can Be Given Secretly.

If your husband or son has fallen a victim to the drink habit, stop pleading, scolding and crying. Use Orlin, which is recommended by thousands of leading druggists throughout the country because they know the good it has accomplished. Hundreds of letters attest to the remarkable cures made by Orlin. Folks Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., write: "Mothers and sisters have told us of husbands and brothers who since they were given Orlin in most cases without their knowledge seem to have lost all desire for drink. Thus your preparation has brought much comfort and happiness to once desolate homes."

This successful remedy can be given secretly if desired, using Orlin No. 1, or the patient can take it of his own free will, using Orlin No. 2. Either form destroys the desire for strong drink and builds up the bodily health, making the user strong and well, a man in every sense of the word. Write for free pamphlet on cure of alcoholism to the Orlin Co., Washington, D. C. The regular price of Orlin is $1 a box. There is no risk in buying Orlin as there is a guarantee in every box which entitles you to a refund of your money if Orlin fails to effect a cure. Orlin is for sale by F. W. Kusler & Co., 195 West Superior St., Duluth, Minn.

NEW ASHLAND SAWMILL.

Ashtand, Wis., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A $50,000 saw mill will be built at Ashtand during the coming winter. Last winter the company spent about $25,000 in building a planing mill, and in other improvements. This total expenditure of at least $75,000, with other purchases of frontage in recent years, including the former Mowatt frontage, and other improvements makes the Ashtand plant of the John Schroeder Lumber company one of the largest and best in Wisconsin. The mill shut down for the season last Thursday. Workmen began next morning, dismantling the old mill. Manager Clark says that the work of building the new mill has practically begun now. For two months past, carpenters have been at work preparing timbers, and orders have been given for machinery, which will not delay work. The new mill will have two band saws and a gang, and the old mill had no gang saw. The output of the new mill will be greatly increased, and it will be possible to handle timbers, which cannot be done with the old mill.

Predicts Warner's Election. Calumet, Mich., Oct. 29.—Lieutenant Governor Patrick H. Kelley, who spoke at Calumet last night, predicted that Governor Warner will carry Michigan by 70,000 to 80,000. He says that Warner is not likely to carry more than 50,000 votes. Kelley is a Republican. Democratic gains are reported, however, in Chippewa county and the Iron country of Northern Michigan.

SITTING BULL'S BODY STAYS AT FORT YATES.

Fort Yates, N. D., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief Sitting Bull will be allowed to enjoy his life in the happy hunting grounds because the superintendent of the Sioux tribe has conquered the wish of the government officials. Sitting Bull lies buried here and when the government ordered the remains of the Indians buried here to be removed to Keokuk, Iowa, the tribe raised such objection that the officials decided the best thing to do was to leave the great chief undisturbed. The bones of his fourteen braves were taken to Keokuk.

CERTIFICATE.

Being a state official and authorized to administer oaths and certify documents, I hereby certify that correspondence laid before me this morning from an Eastern city, states as follows: "A Dr. B. C. is an old practitioner in this city has had Bright's Disease for years, is bed ridden, and is simply waiting his time. He has taken three bottles of Fulton's Renal Compound with more than the usual results. Wednesday, of last week, a brother physician called to see him. The latter upon finding he was better, asked what he was taking. Dr. B. replied, 'It is in the window.' The Dr.'s rejoinder was, 'And so you are taking that stuff, too, are you?' I had a severe case of Diabetes in a patient who left this city and whom I expected to die. Yesterday I had a letter from him stating that he had been cured and was well. Fulton's Compound and was well."

The following report is made by another prominent physician in the same city, using Fulton's Compound in an acute case of Bright's "case is now on the second bottle with astonishing results."

Witness my hand and seal in evidence of the genuineness of this correspondence attested at Oakland, Cal., this December 24th, 1907. (Seal) T. C. LANDREGAN, Notary Public.

No matter whether you call it kidney trouble, Nephritis or Bright's Disease, it is a case of inflamed kidneys and is the old time kidney medicine are kidney excitors. It is clear why they are futile. Fulton's Renal Compound is the first successful renal emollient thus reducing kidney inflammation which is now curable for the first time. Even the serious, supposed incurable forms yield.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS GET FEEBLE

As Results of Chinese
Floods and Famine
Is Feared.

Only Speedy Help Will Save Lives of Emperor's Subjects.

Pekin, Oct. 30.—Enormous destruction was wrought by the recent great floods in Southern China. Hundreds of thousands of persons are in dire straits and it is feared that not only famine, but pestilence, may follow. When the last mail left, 250,000 persons in the valley of the North river were already practically without food, and relief measures were urgently needed. It is estimated that 28,000 people are homeless, and that 80 per cent of the crops have been destroyed. Ten millions of dollars would scarcely cover the loss of property.

The most serious result of the flood is the destruction of growing crops. Almost equally disastrous is the ruin of the dykes, which are essential for the protection of the cultivated lands. The labor and expense of restoring these will be enormous and far beyond the resources of the people.

But the next harvest will not be assured. The work is carried out. Moreover, great areas of land have been covered by vast deposits of sand. It will be years, he some cases, before such land can again be used. Some of it is permanently desolated.

Villages were entirely swept away, not a vestige of anything remaining. In every town and hamlet along the whole length of the river there was more or less destruction. Huge quantities of household effects, stores of grain and other foodstuffs have also been destroyed. Many hundreds of animals used for food were carried off, and there was also considerable loss of water buffaloes, which are essential in the cultivation of the rice fields.

The loss of life was comparatively inconsiderable. In six districts the entire loss scarcely reached fifty. The water rose so gradually that the people had time to escape to the hills.

At present there are no signs of an epidemic. But it is almost too much to hope that there will be none, and there is a greater probability that many who escaped from the floods will be swept away by famine or pestilence.

Speedy and sufficient outside help is the only hope of saving many tens of thousands who live in the flooded districts. The situation will grow worse until the next harvest, and the number of deaths will increase rather than decrease. If pestilence should break out the plight of the people will be fearful indeed.

As already announced Governor Tang Shao-yi has been appointed special imperial commissioner to convey to the United States the thanks of the Chinese government for the restoration of the Boxer indemnity. It is asserted that the chief object of the Pekin government entrusting the mission to such a high and able official is to show to the other Chinese countries in the West that China feels greatly gratified at the action of President Roosevelt, and that as money is so scarce in every part of the Chinese empire at the present moment and the people are so poor, she would feel equally pleased if other countries would follow the example set by America.

Further evidence of the desire to cultivate friendly relations with the great American republic is forthcoming in the elaborate preparations that are being made for the reception of the American fleet at Amoy. Several high officials, including Vice Admiral Siao Chen-ping, will welcome Admiral Sperry and his officers and men on behalf of the Chinese government. The local officials have been instructed to repair a number of ancient temples, build a wharf, construct new roads, erect a grandstand after foreign methods in the parade ground, for the American admiral and his staff to review the Chinese troops, purchase several hundred new rifles from Japan for the conveyance of the American marines and sailors on land, and arrange a number of receptions to the officers and men of the various battleships during their sojourn at Amoy as guests of the Chinese government.

Three doctors here are in attendance on the emperor, who is suffering from noises in the ears, pains in the back and a great inclination to sleep. A daily bath, drawn in the palace, and the various boards and to the viceroys and governors of provinces, together with a copy of the imperial rescripts, build a wharf, construct new roads, erect a grandstand after foreign methods in the parade ground, for the American admiral and his staff to review the Chinese troops, purchase several hundred new rifles from Japan for the conveyance of the American marines and sailors on land, and arrange a number of receptions to the officers and men of the various battleships during their sojourn at Amoy as guests of the Chinese government.

A Hankow newspaper states that two enterprising young Chinese girls have left that city on a pleasure trip to England and America. They will study domestic life in those countries, and on their return will lecture against the conditions of woman's life in China and the cruelty to which Chinese women have to submit.

To those who knew Pekin in the '20s, the contrast offered by the city today gives food for much reflection. The old city, with its narrow streets and broadening influence to the very gates of the city. The tinkling camel bells are gone. The old world has been replaced by the indefatigable bugling of motor cars and the clanging of the midnight streets with noise of rattle and drum; the new police, with their foreign uniforms, rifles and sentry boxes in every quarter, have conformed to the modern.

Well paved streets, flanked by brick drains, now connect all the principal gates; the paper lanterns that accentuated the darkness of former days have been replaced by electric light; scavenging is no longer left to the unsanitary efforts of the parish dogs and pigs; broadways and fire-alarm boxes, and public buildings are being provided for the various government offices.

Most remarkable of all—as indicating the change in social and educational standards—is the new zoological and botanical garden, which, a large crowd of both sexes resort daily to purely Chinese enterprise, of which the citizens are justly proud.

If any one had predicted in 1900 that in less than ten years a foreign adviser to the Chinese government would be driven in an automobile, in company with a member of the grand council, from the city to the summer palace, or that Chinese newspapers, printed in the capital, would discuss the necessity for constitutional government, or that the emperor would have called in medical advice; yet these things, and others equally remarkable, have come to pass. The march of events at Pekin, political, administrative and social, deserves the closest attention of the civilized world.

Clan feuds are not infrequent in the interior, and occasionally the bloodshed. Recently a fierce faction fight, in which the authorities did not interfere, occurred at a place a short distance from the port of Amoy. It appears that a dispute had arisen between two sections of the large clan of Wu concerning a piece of debatable land, of which both claimed to be the

MOST DARING ROBBERY.

Two Hold Ups Turn Trick in Daylight.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 30.—One of the most daring robberies in the history of North Dakota took place at Glenburn Sunday afternoon. Chester Harris was held up and robbed of $130 in broad daylight, and Bert Farafay and Arthur Howard were arrested, charged with the crime. The men are charged with holding Harris up near the railroad tracks. It is alleged that they overpowered Harris and marched him up to the railroad tracks so that they were out of view of the people on Main street. Having got Harris where they wanted him, it is alleged that the men searched his pockets and took $130.

The alleged robbers were rounded up by the citizens of Glenburn, caught and held until Deputies Ed Kelly and Dick Steinhof of Minot came to take them under arrest. They were brought to Minot and lodged in the county jail.

During the time he has been in the navy he has been aboard the battleship Maine, and has seen several long tours, being on the ship that carried William Taft on his trip to the Orient.

HOW WEAK GIRLS MAY GROW INTO STRONG WOMEN

A Reminder, Furnished By An Indiana Woman, of the Need of Looking After the Blood Supply.

Every woman at some time in her life needs a tonic. At special times unusual demands are made upon her strength. When these are added to the worry and work which fall to her lot, weakness will result unless the blood is fortified to meet the strain.

Weak women find in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the tonic exactly suited to their needs. Most of the ills with which they suffer are due to bloodlessness—a condition which the pills readily cure. They save the girl, who enters into womanhood in a bloodless condition, from years of misery and avoid prompt and permanent relief to the woman who is bloodless, and therefore weak.

Mrs. Victor Nowling, a farmer's wife, of R. F. D. No. 5, Rockville, Evans county, Ind., was bloodless from childhood and suffered with weakness until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"A few years ago I began to get seriously ill although I had been ailing a long time before, in fact from my girlhood. I was not at all strong and was pale and thin. I kept losing strength and had to give up doing my household work. At one time I was obliged to go to bed where I was helpless for the whole winter. No one can know what I suffered. My stomach was in bad condition and food would stay on my stomach. I was reduced in weight and was very much discouraged."

"I doctored with local physicians and at last they practically acknowledged that they could not cure me. My husband read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and wanted me to try them but I objected and it was some time before he could get me to do so. After taking a few boxes I noticed I was getting stronger and later was able to sit up in bed. I continued taking the pills until I was entirely cured. I think that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life."

Thousands of women have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most gratifying results and no other medicine is so highly praised by them.

Our booklet, "Plain Talks to Women," explains fully why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are of benefit to women of all ages and is mailed free upon request.

These pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Rural School Pupils' Industrial Contest at Brainerd Marvel.

Samples of Products Raised by Boys and Cooking by Girls.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The industrial contest of the rural school pupils, which was held at the courthouse, was quite a marvel. Some samples of corn, potatoes, carrots, etc., were shown, raised by school boys, which were worthy of exhibition at the state fair and which A. D. Wilson, superintendent of farmers' institutes, declared would stand a good show in the state contest. There were also fine samples of sewing and cake-making exhibited by the girls pupils.

Chief of Police McDevitt, has called for volunteer policemen for Halloween. He will appoint five boys in each ward to keep order. The same plan was tried last year and was very successful, there being fewer depredations than for many years.

St. Francis Catholic parish is holding a three days fair. Supper will be served each night and a large number of articles will be sold. This is the first fair of the sort held here in many years and is for the benefit of the building fund of the new parochial school the church is erecting. The building will have eight rooms and cost about $12,000.

COURTS INVESTIGATION.

Accused Miot Doctor Says He Will Meet Charges.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 30.—Dr. Thor Miot, who was arrested on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree in connection with the alleged operation upon Clara Lien, who died suddenly at a Minot hotel, says that he courts the fullest and most thorough investigation of all the facts of the case. He says that he is innocent of the charge preferred against him.

The doctor was placed under $5,000 bonds, which were furnished by Peter J. Davidson and M. H. Scholberg. He was immediately released and will be given a preliminary hearing in a few days. The doctor takes the position that he has nothing to conceal in connection with the case, that he did what he considered his duty and that he was placed under the same circumstances he would do the same thing again.

The complaint is signed by Erick A. Lien, father of the girl, and Judge William Murray.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE

Will be Built by Government Connecting Life Saving Stations.

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United States government is to build a new telephone line from Grand Marais, Alger county, along the shore of Lake Superior, through Luce county, to Vermilion point, Chippewa county, and back to Grand Marais, a distance of about 100 miles. The line will be used for the purpose of connecting life-saving stations at Grand Marais, Deer Park, the Two-Heart river, Crisp point and Vermilion point, and is an invaluable aid in times of stress on land or water.

MONEY IN PICKLES.

Farmers Around North Branch Had Good Yields.

North Branch, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the five or six weeks that the pickle factory was in operation in North Branch, a total of about 1,500 barrels of pickles were manufactured and shipped to the cities for use. The last batch of pickles were raised in small gardens of farms in this vicinity, and considering the short season it was a very good record.

That pickle raising is a profitable business is shown by the fact that one farmer near North Branch made a profit of $125 from less than an acre and a half, and other farmers and children who went into the business of raising pickles last summer made good money.

TWO INTERESTING MODELS.

Show Lake Superior and Baraboo Regions.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30.—The geological department of the University of Wisconsin has just prepared two interesting topographical and geological models, one of the Lake Superior region and one of the Baraboo region. Each is three feet eight inches by five feet. The model of the Lake Superior region is the same area covered by the new map soon to be published by the United States geological survey. In connection with it is a map of the Baraboo region, showing the headwaters of the Mississippi river and the Hudson bay drainage, together with each of the Lake Superior iron ranges and the copper country.

The model of the Baraboo range is based upon a topographic map by the United States geological survey and the geological work of Wisconsin. It is a model of the Baraboo range, showing the headwaters of the Mississippi river and the Hudson bay drainage, together with each of the Lake Superior iron ranges and the copper country.

ESCAPES AT JAIL DOOR.

Alleged Pickpocket Gives Officer Clever Slip.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Le Roy Moran was arrested in Grand Forks accused of stealing a watch and chain from Manager Jandre of the Com. bination restaurant. In this city Moran consented to cross the river and was brought over to the city jail here. When Officer Quigley arrived at the jail with his prisoner and stopped to unlock the door, Moran made his getaway and has not been located since. Officer Quigley pulled his gun on the man, but it was not in working order and no disturbance was raised to head off the fellow who tore down the alley, and evidently the trail out of town was a search of the city has been futile and no trace of the man can be found.

It is not believed that Moran is any great distance from the city, although the surrounding places have all been notified and the search is still being made for him.

GRAND FORKS FACTORY IS BEING BUILT AGAIN.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work on the reconstruction of the Golden Grain Elevator company factory, destroyed by fire several months ago, is about complete and will soon be ready for occupancy. The entire interior of the building had to be remodeled, hardly more than the shell of the building structure remaining after the fire. In remodeling, the plan of the interior has been somewhat changed to suit the convenience of the plant, which will again be used for one of the leading industries of Grand Forks.

LA FOLLETTE'S HUSBAND GOVERNOR.

Wisconsin Senator Has Nothing to Say for Davidson.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—So far as Senator R. M. La Follette appears to know, Governor Davidson is not a candidate for election on the Republican ticket in Wisconsin. The distinguished publicist, in a stirring address delivered here last night before an audience that filled St. Agnes hall, forgot or overlooked the fact that Davidson is a candidate. The senator's former opponent of the cause of the logical successor of Roosevelt, but had nothing to say about the governor. This naturally attracted considerable comment and confirmed reports that the two are "at odds." Voters were urged to support the Republican legislative ticket.

HANSBROUGH'S CHANCE.

Defeat of Pledge Feature of Primary Law, His Benefit.

Mismarek, N. D., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The expected happening of the state supreme court has declared unconstitutional the pledge feature of the primary law as it relates to the popular election of United States senators, but upholds the law providing for the vote.

The writ of mandamus prayed for is denied and the election will proceed, but all members of the legislature are free to exercise their personal choice in the election of a senator to succeed H. C. Hanson, which means that Hansbrough, who was defeated at the spring primaries, will try again, and all candidates will be in the field, among them T. F. Marshall.

FIRST CARLOAD OF CANARY SEED

Ever Received at Minneapolis Came From N. D. Farmer.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the sample men of the William Dalrymple company opened car 23348 that the Soo road brought in today from Kenal, N. D., and ran their long metal plungers in to test the grain, they got the surprise of their lives.

Wheat of every kind, corn, oats, barley, rye, flax and speltz, all passed through their plungers and into their sample bags in the course of long experience. But that which came out of car 23348 was unlike anything they had ever seen. For a minute they stared at it. Then one man began to twitter and the other broke into a high pitched silvery song, for the little golden specks that lay before them were nothing other than canary seed. O. C. Austad, a prosperous farmer near Kenal, may not have known it, but he was making commercial history when he loaded Soo car 23348, for neither the agricultural records of North Dakota nor the grain trade records of Minneapolis show that anything of the kind ever happened before.

At the Chamber of Commerce millers looked at it and wondered what kind of breakfast food it would make, and the smoking-room statisticians got busy figuring out how many canary birds could eat and for how long out of a 6000-pound capacity car loaded three-fifths capacity, before a would-be customer One grain man said that quality and all considered, it had a value of about $2 a hundred pounds.

HEARST AFTER ASSOCIATION OF MANUFACTURERS

D. M. PARRY PROMPT WITH REPLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—D. M. Parry said in connection with a letter read by Mr. Hearst in New York, said to have been written by Myron D. King to his former secretary, John Maxwell and himself, that he did not know whether these letters were ever written by Mr. King.

"But even if the letters were written by Mr. King, I fail to see the point Mr. Hearst makes. Myron D. King and John M. Maxwell were employed by me to help me in the work of building up the National Association of Manufacturers because I believed they would make efficient employees."

"Mr. King was employed by manufacturers to present their views in connection with certain labor bills. After he had done that, he had no further interest in the issue. It is only natural that he should congratulate me on my re-election to the presidency of the association at Atlanta, after I had been attacked by skulking foes, who struck at me in the rear, a gross deal after Mr. Hearst's method."

"Mr. King has been a Democrat all his life and by profession is an accountant. I imagine he has been twice entrusted by Democratic national committees in important work in the auditing department because of his honesty and ability and experience—not because he has any views on labor matters. While I have been a Republican all my life, I believe in fair play, and in justice to Mr. King and the Democratic national committee, I am compelled to believe Mr. Hearst is engaged in a childish sort of performance in this particular matter."

New York, Oct. 30.—Arguments directed to workmen and trades unionists arraigning the Republican and Democratic parties made up a speech delivered by William Randolph Hearst in Cooper union last night for the Independence party. Two letters from John D. Archibald of the Standard Oil company to the late William J. Sewall, United States senator from New Jersey, bearing on what Mr. Hearst called the indifference of Representative John J. Gardner of New Jersey, chairman of the house committee on labor, to the demands of plain every day working men, figured in the speech, and the two letters were read by him, which he explained were written by D. M. Parry, auditor of the national Democratic committee to D. M. Parry, president of the Manufacturers' association, and to John Maxwell, secretary to Mr. Parry, respectively. Mr. Hearst said that the letters to Mr. Parry congratulated him upon his re-election as president of the Manufacturers' association and upon the adoption by the association's convention of Mr. Parry's "anti-labor" union policies.

The letter to Maxwell, Mr. Hearst further said, referred to the "Fight of the Manufacturers' association against the typographical union and against the eight hour bill in congress."

All four of the letters were cited by Mr. Hearst to emphasize his argument that the Democratic and Republican parties are inimical to labor. The letters from Mr. Archibald follow: "26 Broadway, Dec. 10, 1899. William J. Sewall, Washington, D. C.—My Dear Senator: We are informed that it is the purpose of the industrial commission which has been taking testimony for a period of several months regarding industrial corporations to make a preliminary report at an early day to congress which will probably serve as a text for discussion there."

"It seems very important that this report should be wisely and conservatively shaped. Representative John J. Gardner of Atlantic City, N. J., is a member of that commission, and we think it very desirable indeed that you should have a word with him on the subject. We have no doubt from what we know of him and coming from the locality he does, that he will treat the subject judiciously and sensibly, but I say it seems very desirable to be as sure as possible."

"Trusting you can find an opportunity of speaking with him on the subject and with kind regards, I am, Very truly yours, JOHN D. ARCHIBALD."

"26 Broadway, Camden, N. J.—My Dear Senator: I have your kind favor of yesterday and beg to thank you sincerely for your prompt attention to the matter. It will be most desirable for you to come in some time with Mr. Gardner, but if that is not possible, will be greatly pleased to see him at any time, as suggested. Very truly yours, JOHN D. ARCHIBALD."

The letters by Mr. King read: "St. Louis, 5-26. My Dear D. M. Parry: I congratulate you upon your success at the Atlantic convention. You do under the conditions that confront them."

success in securing the exemption by the convention of your policies.

"Hurray for D. M. Parry truly, M. D. KING."

WHITE SLAVE CHARGE MADE

A New York Magistrate Says Big Politician is Trafficking.

New York, Oct. 30.—Magistrate Crane, sitting in the Yorkville police court created a sensation by charging that a prominent politician had been guilty of trafficking in "white slaves." Crane made the accusation after he had heard the testimony by two girls who had been the victims of a man captured by the Children's society agents. It was alleged the women conducted a clearing house system, by which immoral resorts are filled with women. Magistrate Crane said: "There is a man high in politics of this town, a man who wields great power here and whose name is well known here and elsewhere. I am convinced in some way connected or can be connected with the traffic in young girls. I won't tell who this man is. All I will say is, that we are looking for him. He has not been caught as yet. I hope we will catch him."

HERMAN RAUTIO DIES OF TYPHOID

Was Taken From City Jail to Hospital Sunday.

Herman Rautio, who was taken from the city jail to St. Luke's hospital Sunday, suffering with typhoid fever, died last night. He was 25 years of age, and nothing is known concerning his relatives.

Rautio arrived in the city Saturday evening from Altkin, Minn. He was not feeling well, and applied for lodgings at the police station. He complained of his ill health, and seemed to be in such pain that a physician was called to attend his wants. After about 10 o'clock the doctor declared Rautio seemed to grow worse during the night, and in the morning Dr. Graham was called. He pronounced his case as being one of typhoid, and directed that the man be removed to St. Luke's hospital.

TO JUVENILE COURT.

Roy Sager Cannot Satisfactorily Explain Possession of Money.

Roy Sager, 11 years old, was taken in custody by Truant Officer Fifer yesterday, and held to appear in the juvenile court. He had a $10 bill in his possession, and could give no satisfactory explanation of how he came by it. The boy has been in custody before, and the cash is supposed to have been stolen.

When taken before Chief Troyer, Roy told four different stories of how the money came into his possession. One was that he found the bill in Smith's drug store, another that he picked it up on the street, another that it dropped from the pocket of a "sewer" and the fourth that he found it in a pocketbook which was lying in front of the union depot. The boy's mother is a hard-working widow, and the lad was allowed to go under his promise that he would appear in juvenile court tomorrow morning.

CONVICTED, HE INVOLVES MORE, AS WIFE CRIES

MORE FRISCO CROOKEDNESS SHOWN

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Standing in the shadow of the penitentiary, with sentence about to be passed upon him, and having seen his beautiful young wife just led from the courtroom, hysterically crying "No, no," E. A. S. Blake, contractor, convicted of attempting to bribe John M. Kelly to qualify on the jury to try Abraham Ruef and vote for Ruef's acquittal, made a full confession in court.

Blake said he had a statement to make as reason why sentence should not be pronounced. This came as a complete surprise to his counsel, who were permitted to withdraw from the case.

After being sworn, and stating that he had not been promised immunity, Blake told of being offered $10,000 by Attorney A. E. Newburgh and F. J. Murphy, of Ruef's counsel, to influence amount, in notes signed by Ruef, being delivered to a third party, to be paid to Blake immediately he was sentenced. Besides this amount, Blake declared that while he was in the penitentiary.

Blake said he had a statement to make as reason why sentence should not be pronounced. This came as a complete surprise to his counsel, who were permitted to withdraw from the case.

After being sworn, and stating that he had not been promised immunity, Blake told of being offered $10,000 by Attorney A. E. Newburgh and F. J. Murphy, of Ruef's counsel, to influence

J. M. Kelly, a prospective juror, to vote for the acquittal of Ruef. "He at first offered Kelly $500, which was refused, but the offer of $1,000 was accepted."

It was then brought out that Newburgh had secured attorneys for Blake's defense. Blake was then told of the offer of $10,000 and provision for his wife while in prison if he would not make a confession. The story told by Blake created a sensation in the courtroom and the case was continued two weeks.

A fourth name was late today added to the trio accused in the confession of Blake. According to his statements to District Attorney Langdon, supplementing the dramatic confession he made in the open courtroom, Martin Stevens, an attorney, was made custodian of notes for $10,000 alleged to have been executed by Abraham Ruef, now on trial for bribery.

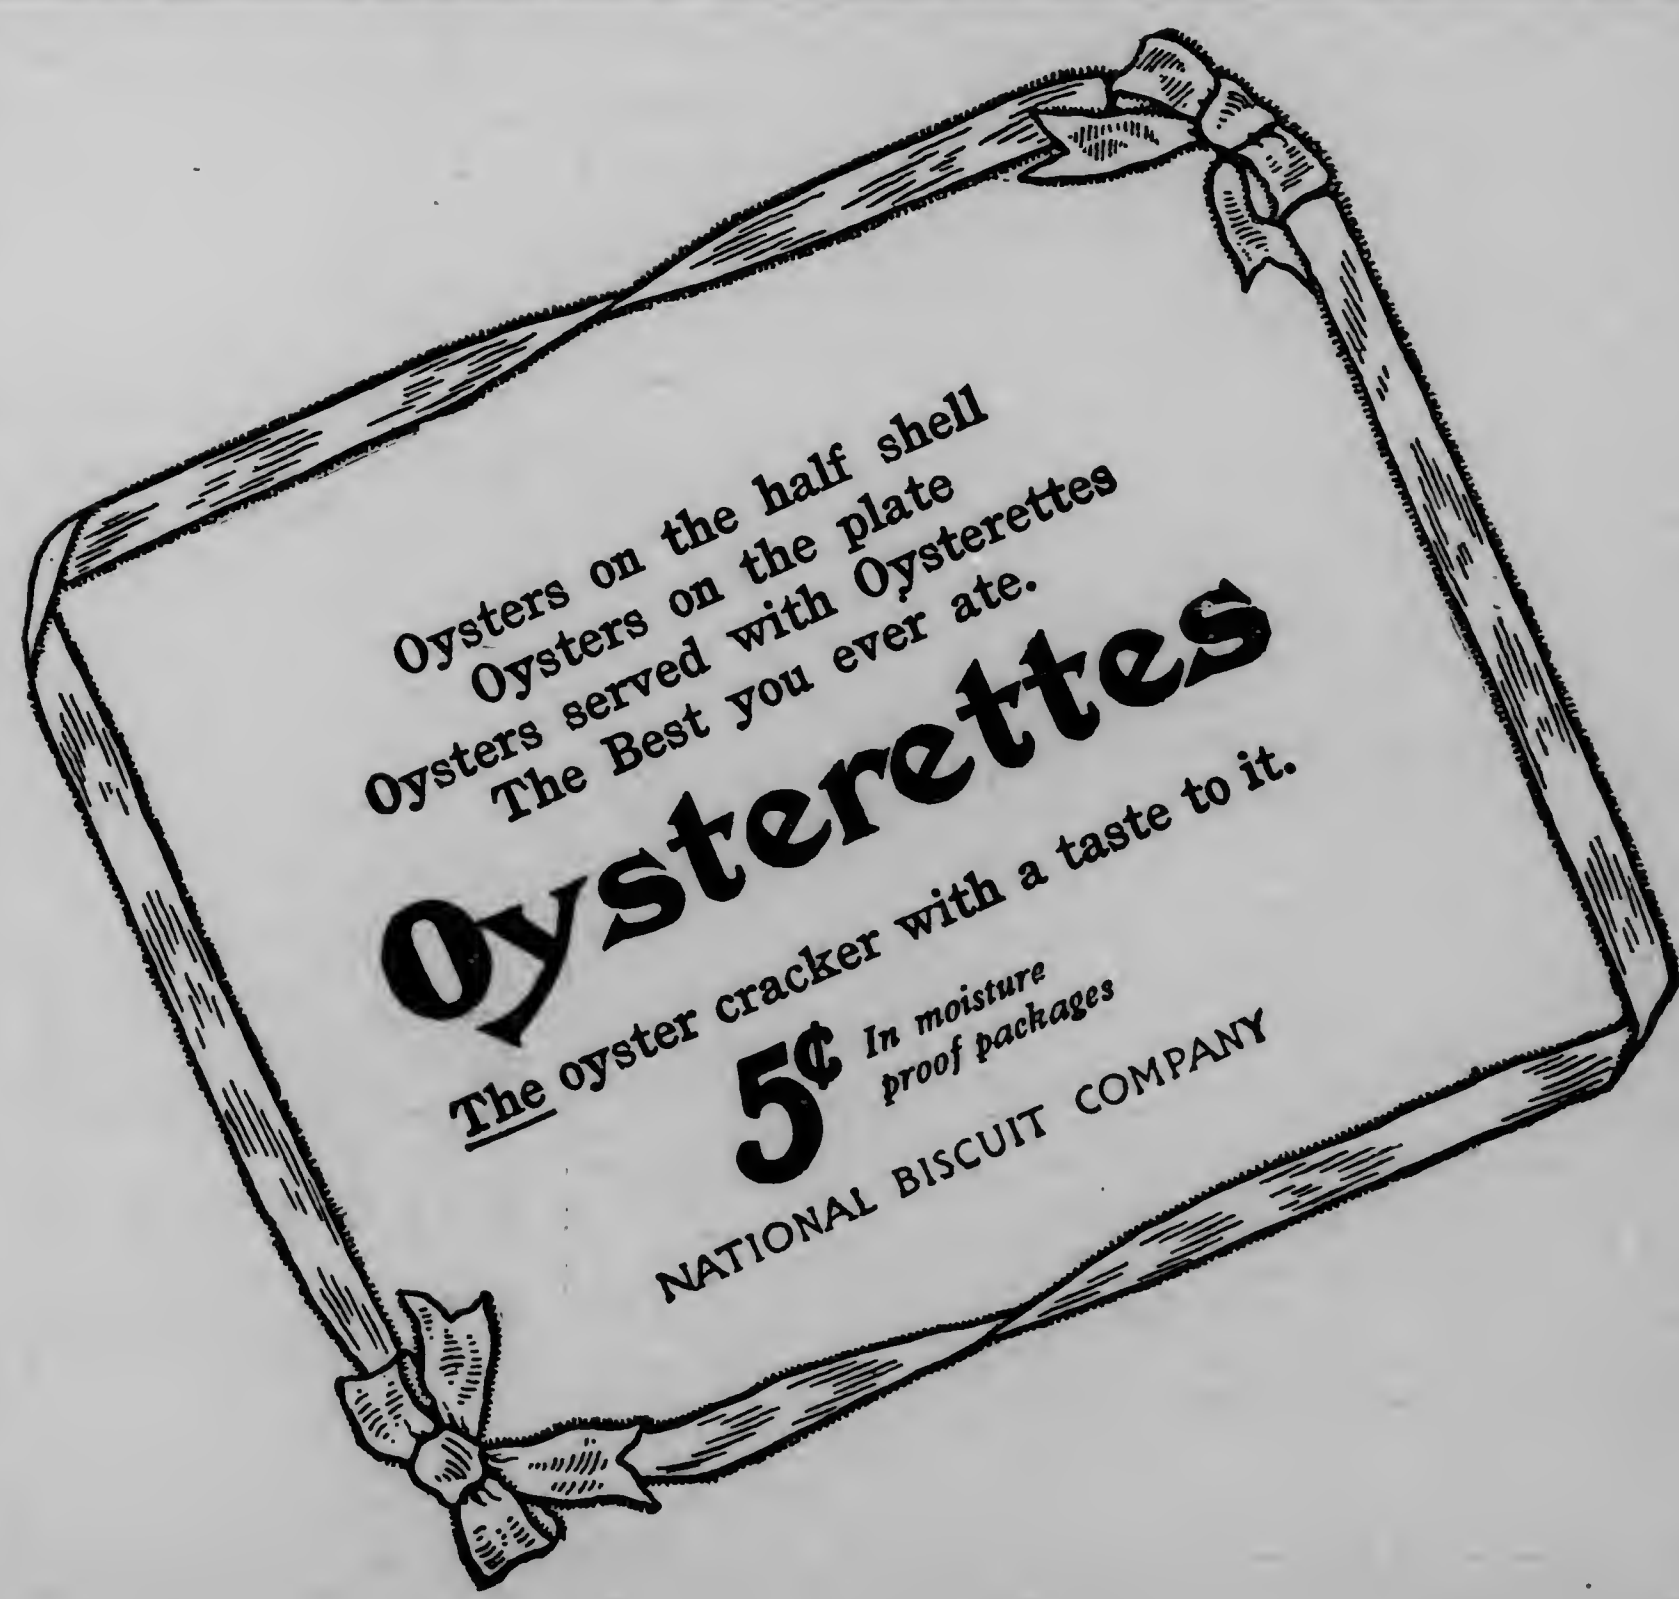

Stevens, when asked to explain Blake's accusation, refused to make any statement except under oath. Stevens was attorney for Blake when the latter was first accused of having offered $1,000 to John M. Kelly, a ventriloquist, in order that Kelly should attempt to qualify on the Ruef jury and vote for acquittal.

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

S. S. S. is the best treatment for Catarrh because it is a perfect blood purifier. It is the only medicine that is able to get down into the circulation and entirely remove the catarrhal matter and impurities which produce the trouble. As long as the mucous membranes and tissues are kept inflamed and irritated by this impure and infected condition of the blood Catarrh will remain. Its disagreeable and dangerous symptoms, of ringing noises in the ears, mucus dropping back into the throat, headaches, watery eyes, difficult breathing, and even stomach disorders and weakened health, cannot be permanently relieved until the blood is purified. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It goes down to the very root of the trouble, and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter from the blood and enriches this vital fluid so that all the mucous surfaces are supplied with nutritive, healthful qualities, instead of being constantly irritated and inflamed by impurities in the circulation. Then the symptoms begin to pass away and when S. S. S. has entirely purified the blood, Catarrh is permanently cured and the general health greatly built up. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

Relations are mixed.

From the Kansas City Star: A well known Washington newspaper man, William Harris, of the brother becoming his father-in-law. The brother's stepfather became his brother-in-law.

There is much food for thought and a chance for mental collapse in the effort to figure out mixed family relationships complicated by unusual marriages. One man, William Harris, of Thibault, Pa., committed suicide because he was unable to figure out the relationship between his father-in-law, the brother's stepfather, and his own grandfather.

Miss Millie Beckenbough, of Minnesota, was married to her uncle's brother's niece's brother-in-law, and no one ever has been able to untangle the relationship.

One of the governors of Missouri, Claiborne F. Jackson, married an elderly woman, and the father married her daughter. A child was born to each couple. The difficult question at once arose, what relationship was one child to the other?

A laboring man this morning pointed out one of the many errors in the statement of P. E. Dowling, editor of the Eveleth Star, which was printed in the morning paper.

Mr. Dowling states that Mr. Jacobson was the author of the vestibule bill, which compelled the street car companies to provide enclosed vestibules for

J. F. JACOBSON.

There are only three days left now. Will anybody give a single reason why this man should receive even one vote in Northern Minnesota. The New Tribune won't. The Republican committee won't. The signers of the New Tribune's notorious petition won't. Will anybody undertake the task?

TAFT TALKS JIM IN JIM'S TOWN

Tells Audience Sherman Says Republican Victory is Sure.

Union, N. Y., Oct. 30.—"Your Jim has assured me that we are going to be elected, and I believe his judgment is good," declared William H. Taft to an audience here today. He added: "I have known Mr. Sherman for years. You don't have to know him long to know him well. It has been my good fortune in Washington to find him one of the towers of strength for doing things. We are in the same boat, Jim and I. Nobody can vote for him and scratch me, and nobody can vote for me and scratch Jim. We are absolutely tied together, and I am delighted that it is so. We are on the eve of a national election, and Jim Sherman assures me that we are going to be elected."

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

One St. Louis County and One Pine County Case.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 30.—(Special to The Herald).—Among the state supreme court opinions led today are two dealing with cases in St. Louis and Pine counties. The syllabus:

Money Weight Scale company, appellant, vs. Gustav Hjerpe, respondent. In action to recover damages for breach of warranty contained in a contract of sale of a computing scale, it is held that the finding of the jury that the original contract was not modified and that there had been a breach of the warranty, issues sustained by the evidence.

Assignments of error cannot be predicted upon a ruling of the trial court which is neither erroneous nor in error in the trial court nor assigned as error in the trial court below upon the section for a new trial ordered from St. Louis county.

Order affirmed from St. Louis county. Town of Kettle River, appellant, vs. Town of Bruno, respondent. Syllabus: As a general rule in a person whose interest in the subject matter in litigation and whose liability to respond to the plaintiff's demand is determined wholly from his independent relation thereto, unaffected by and disconnected from the liability of the defendant, named in the action, is not a necessary party to the action.

Two towns were organized from territory within the limits of an existing town. Held, in an action by the parent town against one of the new towns, to enforce the liability created by chapter 227, general laws of 1887, to contribute pro rata to the indebtedness of the old town, and that separate actions may be maintained against each new town.

The liability of each town in such a case is separate, independent and not contingent upon or measured by the liability of the other. Reversed. From Pine county.

THE CLUB MOTHERS' AMENDS.

The Bohemian. The clubwoman closed her book on "Domestic Responsibility" and, with a tinge of remorse, went out on the lawn, where her children were at play.

"Mary," she informed her children's nurse, "I've neglected my young ones for the clubs too much these last few years, and I'm going to try and make amends. Now this afternoon I intend to dress one of them with my own hands and take it for an outing in the park."

It was quite late that afternoon when the reform clubwoman, after pushing a go-cart containing the youngster she had selected and prepared for its outing about the spacious public park for several hours, started toward home. She had hardly come within sight of it when the nurse rushed up, palpably agitated.

"Oh, mum," she cried, "the child's all right, Mary," the mother announced, by way of assurance, "I humored it all afternoon with candy and fruit!"

"But, mum," cried the nurse, endeavoring to regain her breath, "Mrs. Smith next door's been searched into the police has been notified and—Oh, Lawd, mum!"

"Don't act so queer over that hysterical Mrs. Smith?"

"I've gone an' took her child, mum!"

WOMEN'S SHOES.

New York Sun: "Of course," she said, "we all know that our left foot is bigger than our right foot, unless we happen to be left handed, in which case the right foot is bigger. And that, of course, makes trouble in getting fitted to shoes."

"If we get a shoe that fits our right foot nicely the left shoe of that pair is likely to be too small; and if we try on a pair the left one of which is a good fit, why, the right shoe of that pair may be so big that it almost falls off that foot. But did you know that, if you buy mismatched shoes, one of a pair of one size and the other of a pair of another size? Why, certainly."

"There is quite a little difference in the size of my feet and I have all sorts of trouble getting fitted, but when I went into this store the salesman said to me that I ought to buy mismatched shoes of different sizes, that I ought to fit each foot perfectly. He said that I should wear on my left foot a 5 1/2 shoe and on my right foot a 5 1/4 shoe. But did you break up pairs of shoes in that way?" I asked him, and the salesman said:

"We do, and breaking them up in that way does not, as you might imagine it would, make a difference in the regular price, which covers the expense of sending the single shoes left from the two broken pairs back to the factory, where each is joined with a shoe of its own size, and then the two complete pairs of shoes come back into stock."

When Rice and Wilson Made Crowds Roar.

Kansas City Times: The funny papers and the evening circus have about busted up the clown business," said Henry W. Wilson, the other day. Wilson was for many years a circus clown, and one of the best and funniest in the business. He is in the lecture business now.

"The luckiest end man still lives in the city—the play—the real circus jester has passed into history, like George Washington, Napoleon and famous characters," he continued.

"In the days of Dan Rice and Yankee Robinson," he continued, "there was a good one, that they got their money from the show or not. There was an individuality about the old-time jester, just as there is today about the actor. Some clowns were greater than others."

"If you don't think that brought a laugh down the seats—in the sky-line high—the boy with his arms around the girl and both eating candy or popcorn in supreme content. Dan taking the lead: 'Say, Mr. Smith, do you know that I'd rather be one of those people up there than to be president of the United States?'

"What!" exclaimed the ringmaster in great astonishment. "I can't imagine any man in this crowd who is luckier than the president of the United States."

CANNON ON DEFENSIVE

Writes Bishop Letter Saying He Didn't Strangle Littlefield Bill.

Speaker Also Says He Never Warred on Methodists.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 30.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon today at the request of Rev. F. M. Bristol, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, of Indianapolis, addressed him an open letter in answer to the question, put to the speaker: "Did the speaker prevent the house from taking a vote on the Littlefield bill?" Mr. Cannon says:

"I did not prevent the house from considering the Littlefield bill. I did not prevent the house from voting on it, and I will add that I had no power to prevent the house from doing it either. For the Littlefield bill, there are no rules, there is no committee of rules, and there is no speaker that can prevent a majority of the house from taking up any measure and acting upon it at any time."

"In the first session of the sixtieth congress the Littlefield bill was not reported from the committee on judiciary. The speaker had no power to compel that committee to report that bill or any other bill referred to it under the rules, or to prevent the committee from reporting any bill over which it had jurisdiction. The speaker, having reported the bill, the speaker, as a matter of course, did not prevent the house from considering it or voting upon it."

No Motion Made. "No motion was ever made in the house to take up that bill for consideration, nor was any recognition asked for that purpose. It was in the power of any member of the house, or of any member of a majority, by raising the question of consideration, to have brought that bill before the house for action, and it was not in the power of the speaker to have prevented it."

"I have said in my speeches—and repeat it here—that the bishops of the Methodist church were misled by agents who either willfully or ignorantly made untruthful statements."

"Rev. A. Baker, of Columbus, is general superintendent of the league in Washington, and do not remember to have met or seen him. Rev. S. L. Nicholson is legislative superintendent of the anti-saloon league in Washington. I have met him. These two men seem to be responsible for the misstatements that have been circulated. The league and the churches which employed these agents did not get it from me."

Both state that as speaker I packed the judiciary committee to prevent the report of the Littlefield bill, and specifically, particularly, that I did not report it in the sixtieth congress. The speaker, however, has no right to the committee on the judiciary for the reason that he favored the Littlefield bill. These each and all are falsehoods, deliberate falsehoods, which have been repeated by the Littlefield bill from the speaker, Mr. Littlefield and Republican members of the judiciary committee."

Start Tidy Word. "Rev. Mr. Nicholson, by his own signature, published a statement that the Littlefield bill was favorably reported by the judiciary committee in the first session of the fifty-ninth congress; that the speaker promised to report it in the second session of the fifty-ninth congress, or to be specific, on the calendar until after the congressional election of 1906. He showed no recognition to call it up at the beginning of the second session of that congress, and I believe I have shown the truth of this statement. It is only necessary to say—and I believe I have shown it above—that the Littlefield bill was not reported until the second session of the Fifty-ninth congress, or to be specific, Jan. 24, 1907, within five weeks of the close of that congress and three months before the congressional elections of 1906."

"Rev. Mr. Nicholson is either an agent who guesses at what he ought to know, or he deliberately lied."

"I have never courted a war with the Methodist church or its leaders. I know the power of foot food in the hands of the power of my representation when it finds lodgment in the minds of the bishops and is mistaken for truth."

"J. G. CANNON."

pole is going to jump. That's the end of the gag, but on this occasion, in order to get my revenge, I introduced this one."

"Well, well, there is no use going on that way; tell me what your trouble is and maybe I can help you."

"Nobody can help me! It's too terrible! Tell it, man! Tell it!" commands the ringmaster.

"They had a wreck on the Santa Fe railroad yesterday. Two trains were trying to pass on the same track butted into each other and every man, woman and child on both trains was killed in a minute."

"Why, no. Did you ever jump with my uncle?"

"Yes, I did that."

"How far did you jump?"

"Oh, I jumped about eight and one-half feet on the level."

"He hesitated before the next question. I think some intuition told him what was coming, but he dared not stop with the big audience waiting to hear him ask it."

"Well, sir, he made one of the mightiest jumps you have ever heard of. He landed $15,000 in debt, but I never heard whether he jumped out again."

"The audience enjoyed the joke hugely, because many in it had been victimized by the ringmaster's rascally uncle. They led the cheering and seemed to think it was the prize joke of the show. The ringmaster wanted me discharged, and when the boss wouldn't do it he left."

"Dan Rice's first instructions to me were about as far from the mark to make them laugh; that's your job. If you're sick, distressed in mind or body, or in any way are dodging anybody who is going to lick you, forget it until the show is over. You must go into the ring with only one thought in view. You must keep your mind and body healthy and clean, and then you will feel like you want to laugh yourself, and it will be easy to make your audience laugh. The matter of making people laugh is largely one of magnetism. They should feel in their bones that when they look at your face, they are going to smile whether you say anything or not. I have known clowns who could keep an audience in an uproar just by the way they would move their mouths. People would rather laugh than do anything else on earth, and if you can make them laugh until their sides ache, they will be your friends for life."

Order Will be Maintained in Duluth Saturday Night.

Twenty plain clothes men will be added to the police force of the city tomorrow night, to meet the demands of Halloween. The whole duty of the special police will be to watch for Halloween offenders. The city officials are entirely willing that the young people of the city have a good time on Halloween, and will not interfere where celebrators of the occasion do not become too disorderly, or develop destructive tendencies. THINKS FATHER INSANE.

Son Says He Fights Every Man Entering His House.

John Hagorodre, an aged German farmer living at Cobysville, wants to fight with everybody who enters his house. His actions have become so objectionable of late that his son, Eugene Hagorodre this morning filed information against his father in probate court, and he was examined and committed to Pergus Falls. Hagorodre is 62 years old and has ten children.

BOY FOUND EXPLOSIVE

Touched Off Percussion Cap and is Badly Injured.

Father Sues the Mining Company for $25,000 Damages.

Because, he claims, employees of the Commodore Mining company allowed percussion caps to lie around within reach of children and did not exercise proper care to prevent them coming into the hands of those not familiar with their dangerous character, William Huhtala of Virginia has brought suit against the company in district court to recover $25,000 damages, claimed to have been sustained by the injuries received by his son Charles, 3 years old, who picked up one of the caps and set it off. E. L. McNeil, superintendent in the employ of the company, is made a party to the suit.

The complaint, filed with the clerk of the district court this morning, set forth that the Commodore Mining company was engaged his year in removing the overburden from what is known as the Commodore Pit near Virginia, using explosives to loosen the ground. It charges that the work was carried on within 150 feet of the county road and, near the road, the employees allowed the caps, which were highly explosive and dangerous, to lie around unguarded.

On Sept. 15 of this year, he says, his son Charles, aged 3 years, was on his way home from school and picked up one of the caps. He did not know the nature of his find and attempted to light it, supposing it to be some sort of fireworks. As a result of the explosion, one eye had to be removed entirely, the other was seriously injured and he was scarred about the face and head.

The father thinks the company's employees were negligent and he seeks to recover.

They Are Certainly Swell.

SHE IS NOT A CITIZEN

Woman is Much Surprised to Learn She is a Canadian.

Was Born in Duluth, But Married an Englishman.

Under what conditions is a person a citizen of the United States? The inspector in charge of the local immigration office, W. H. Dean, and his assistants, are called on constantly to settle this question, and sometimes matters get a bit tangled, and the question becomes a hard one to answer. Mrs. Frank Wilson of West Duluth was born in the city of Duluth, of American parents. Some six months ago she was married to the man whose name she now bears, who is an Englishman.

The couple went on a visit to the groom's parents in Canada and returned this morning aboard the steamer America. Mr. Dean met them at the gangplank, and demanded a head tax of $4 each.

The man entered no complaint, but the woman objected on the ground that she was a citizen of the United States, having been born and reared in this country. Mr. Dean informed her that she was not a citizen of the United States, and that she was a Canadian.

The tax was paid and the couple were admitted into the country.

GULBRANSONS LOWEST BIDDERS

Given Contract for Grand Avenue Culvert and Fill.

Gulbranson Bros. were the lowest bidders on the contract for constructing a concrete culvert and fill on Grand avenue near the intersection of Mathews street, which is about Ninetieth avenue west. Their figure was $7,336.80. Bids were opened this morning by the board of public works.

The expenditure necessary for this improvement will practically exhaust the fund of $37,444 appropriated by the council last summer for the repair, improvement and construction of bridges and culverts in the city. With the completion of this contract, the entire amount will have been expended, possibly, for a surplus of a very few hundred dollars. It also will be the last culvert or bridge contract to be let this season.

The last culvert have been busy making repairs and improvements during the past two or three months, and have accomplished a good deal. Most of the bridges are now in what may be called a safe condition. There is still room for further improvement, but a lack of funds made it impossible to provide for all the repairs that were recommended by inspectors in the employ of the board of public works and the engineering department.

IS NOT REGISTERED. West Duluth Man Signs Manifesto, But Will Not Vote.

West Duluth people since the appearance of the list of names in the News Tribune endorsing Jacobson, have been enjoying a joke at the expense of William Mallough. Although Mr. Mallough professes to be a staunch supporter of Jacobson, it seems that his interest was not enough to lead him to go to the registration place and get his name on the list, so that he will be unable to vote at the election next Tuesday.

Mr. Mallough votes in the first precinct of the Eighth ward and a scrutiny of the registration book of that precinct fails to disclose his name. His friends think that, if he is such a strong supporter of Jacobson, he might, at least, want to get in his own vote in support of his candidate and his sign without having registered.

as an indication that his support can be as strong as his action would seem to indicate.

MORSE ADMITS DUMMY LOANS

Says Ice President Oler Expressed Gratitude to Him.

New York, Oct. 30.—Ex-Promoter Charles W. Morse went on the witness stand today to continue his testimony. He said he accepted full responsibility for the dummy loans made in the name of Leslie B. Whiting, the 19-year-old office boy. The loans were made by Curtis and Wire, as officials of the National Bank of North America, said Mr. Morse, but in making them they had acted at his request and considered himself responsible for the loans. If the loans were not reported to the controller of the currency, however, the omission was not due to any request made by him and the request of omission was without his knowledge.

A loan made to Leslie M. Oler, president of the American Ice company, on 1,000 shares of stock, Morse said, had been assured of lasting gratitude by Oler because of his action in that instance. He said that when he informed Oler that he would permit him to make a loan on the ice stock the president of the company appeared to be immensely pleased. "He repeatedly thanked me," said Mr. Morse, "even to the extent of saying that his wife and children would remember me in their prayers. He told me I had put him on his feet and given him a chance no one else had ever given him."

When his attention was called to the testimony of Mr. Oler in the present trial to the effect that he had tipped Morse to sell the 1,000 shares of ice when the stock was selling at 90, but that Morse had refused to sell, saying that it would go to 110, Morse said:

"If he had wanted to sell that ice at 90 he could have done so. It was his own stock and not mine. I never refused to tell it. The statement is wrong."

Mr. Morse told of various properties the American Ice company owned of the water rights permitting ice to be cut at various places and the actual investments in outfits, the company owned in New York, Washington, Baltimore and other cities. He said he was thoroughly familiar with the ice company's property.

"What did you consider the stock of the ice company really and actually worth?" he was asked. "I thought it worth fully par and its earning capacity easily 7 per cent," he replied.
